

WE NOMINATE

Michael Carnevale, one of the best-known figures along Nassau Street and a confirmed Princetonian for some 44 years, who is entering upon what he enjoys calling "my gradual year-to-year retirement that might take some time." With the sale of the Annex Restaurant, a family enterprise he and his brother-in-law, John Giantonio, have owned for almost two decades, the 65-year old Carnevale is exchanging long, long years of 12-to-15-hour work-days for the more limited responsibilities of now helping manage the highly regarded bar and grill for the new ownership, his young cousins, Henry and Louis Carnevale.

The "Carnevale story" is in the classic and heartening American tradition: the post-World War I immigrant from Italy whose energies, abilities and devotion have strengthened his adopted country and community. It was in 1922 that Carnevale followed his father to Princeton from his native province of Campobasso — trained as a cobbler, speaking no English, and with the equivalent of a fifth-grade education. In 1966, as delighted with his eight grandchildren as he is of his two sons and daughter, he can point to a record of accomplishment reminiscent of the success sagas popularized early in this century by Horatio Alger.

With a circle of friendships encompassing all segments of the Princeton Community, Carnevale has only one word — "unbelievable!" — when it comes to discussing the "improvements and changes I have seen in Princeton." As different as the Princeton of the late 1940's was from the somnolent town of the 1930's, it is, in his view, the past 10 years that have "turned this old place topsy-turvy." For instance, the serene and economically "slow" summer months of yesteryear have faded into memory and Carnevale, with the rising summertime uses of institutional facilities, would estimate that the balance sheets for many local businesses would today show only minor variances between July and October.

Carnevale, understandably proud that his operation of "The Annex" has never raised even a whisper of challenge on the part of the ABC (Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission), feels that he is an integral part of both Town and Gown. An employee of the University's Department of Grounds and Buildings in his early Princeton years, and subsequently a founder of both the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club of Princeton and the League of Roma Eterna, he knows countless members of the University faculty and staff and, on football weekends, looks forward to "welcoming back" many of the graduate and undergraduate students for whom over the years he has demonstrated a noteworthy degree of tolerance.

A quarter-century after his arrival in Princeton, Carnevale, a naturalized American citizen since 1928, the year he "brought my wife, Lucy, over from Italy," had an opportunity to leave the cobbling profession. In 1948 he and his brother-in-law purchased "The Old Annex," then in the niche currently occupied by The Flower Basket; two years later they moved to the Annex's present subterranean location. The payroll has gradually climbed to 18 full-time employees — to the satisfaction of such groups as the Tuesday Afternoon Luncheon, bringing together weekly for the past 11 years one of the East's most stimulating gatherings of "young men of letters of interest and probably promise."

For his remarkable understanding of the phenomena which are "Princeton 1966;" for constantly seeking to bridge the gaps all too often separating the component parts of the community to which he is so deeply devoted; for giving substance to the belief that these United States are the "land of opportunity;" he is our nominee as

THREE WHO SURVIVED
Pearl Harbor Recalled.
When Japanese bombers burst through the clouds above Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, Robert W. Van de Velde of 222 Western Way was stationed at Schofield Barracks. Fred H. Kink of 25 Erdman Avenue was at sea near Hawaii on the carrier Lexington, and Elmer B. Greig of Ridgeview Road was on Wake Island.

There were 70 combat ships in the harbor that morning, including eight battleships. Surrounded in one hour to a blazing inferno that resulted in 2,343 officers and men dead, 1,272 wounded, 1000 missing and U.S. naval losses greater than in World War I.

The men on the Lexington had thought they would be in Pearl Harbor for the Christmas holidays. Mr. Kink recalls. "The Lexington got orders to leave on Friday and we left on Friday," he headed towards Midway.

Whoever decided to order those two carriers out to sea, I don't know," Mr. Van de Velde comments. "Hank was in command of those two ships. It was a real stroke of genius or luck."

As the Lexington moved out of the harbor on the Friday before the attack, "we saw a tremendous fleet of our ships coming in. We felt sort of cheated. They were coming in for the holidays and we were going out. I have been very fortunate."

Oahu Like a Turtle. The island of Oahu is likened to a turtle, and Mr. Van de Velde credits his memories of the Pearl Harbor attack geographically. "The neck of the turtle extends northwest, in the center of the central plateau is Wheeler Field, with Schofield Barracks right next to it. . . .

Pearl Harbor is at the south end of Oahu. It is a magnificent harbor—from the point of view of protection from weather and submarines. Next to it is Hickam Field, the Army Air Corps bomber

"THE OKLAHOMA WAS LYING WRECKED where we had cast off the Friday before." Fred H. Kink, commander of American Legion Post 76, was stationed aboard the carrier Lexington ordered out of Pearl Harbor just before the Pearl Harbor attack. Above, he looks with his son Kerry through the searaph on his sister kept during the six years he was in the war. Story this page. (Staff Photo) base. There was a Marine unit at Ewa and a Marine air squadron at Kaneohe Naval Air Station. . . .

Slide-de-camp to the commanding general of the 25th Division, he had joined the regular Army in 1936, three years after graduating from Princeton, and held the temporary rank of captain.

"The high command (Pearl Harbor) Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Major General Walter C. Short" began getting cables from Washington about the imminence of war. I would see things headed in my job. Around November 28 we received a cable 'take precautions' or words to that effect. That same Washington cable said major elements of the Japanese fleet had been discovered sailing south towards the Philippines.

National Seaplanes. "We went on Alert No. 1—an anti-submarine alert. It looked like it was going to be the Philippines. No further word came from Washington. I think that Kimmel and Short were unfairly criticized in the investigation later. It's true they were bothorthy individuals and they both disliked each other."

"But I think their great fault was in not insisting on greater communication between Navy and Army intelligence. The Army didn't know until a day later that the Navy's picket ship at the mouth of the harbor had discovered a Japanese submarine early in the morning of the attack. Army and Navy intelligence were competing until after the attack. This was one reason the CIA was begun, to make sure this kind of interservice competition didn't happen again."

Alarm Considered False. He recalls that radar was very new and that the Army privates were still learning the fine points when one discovered flights of planes on the screen. "It was reported, but someone up the line knew the Army bombers were coming in from the West Coast, being ferried to the Philippines. They dropped it there. This alarm would have given us an hour or so."

The Japanese planes ran in on the tail of these bombers striking Hickam Field with heavy bombs and fire. It was striking with fighter-bombers. "As they dropped their bombs, they would strike. It was absolutely, from a military point of view, a magnificent surprise. But these stories that the Army and Navy were supposed to be working a lot of Saturday night parties are a lot of nonsense."

From his house about a quarter of a mile from Wheeler Field, he saw the plane diving. Terrific explosions shook the ground. "As they came out of their dive and turned into the sun you could see the damaged and crippled. The only shot I fired in anger in the war was with a Colt 45 at a strafing plane on the road to the 25th Division headquarters."

The impressive thing, he said, "was the speed with which the non-com armed padlocks and bailed guns and ammunition up on the roof tops because they were just fighting mad." Trucks filled with soldiers in their underwear roared into the assembly point. "Confusion with underlying order to let—the way the troops got to the field was great." They moved cannon to positions according to their defense plans. The division was assigned to defend the southern half of the island including Pearl Harbor. "Some of the troops went over there right way."

"I was running errands and doing what the general wanted done and the didn't see Pearl Harbor until sometime around that day. It was the saddest sight—these great ships smoking. They burned for days and days . . ."

Disbelief Was General. Aboard the Lexington disbelief greeted the news. "You know how it is," Mr. Kink says. "The old veterans said that's just a battle maneuver to see how fast we can get ready. I found out later that we received orders to intercept the Japanese fleet, but we didn't come near them. Our planes didn't spot anything."

Harbor lay prostrate. 36 Japanese bombers hit Wake Island. Captain Greer then a lieutenant commander was supervising defense construction, serving under Commander W Scott Cunningham. The bombers came out of the clouds at 2,000 feet while four American planes patrolled unavert at 2,000 feet. The noise of the surf drowned out their motors and the attack was a complete surprise.

The island was manned by an under-strength Marine battalion led by Major Joseph Livermore, a handful of Marine pilots flying Grumman Wildcats, and construction workers. A few of whom took to the bushes, coming out for meals. Wake held off constant Japanese attacks until December 23 in one of the most heroic stand in the history of the United States.

Towards evening on the 30th, Mr. Klink recalls the Lexington was marked into Pearl Harbor for stores and fuel. The island was used to fueling Everybody was very quiet. We didn't believe it would be as bad as it was. Oil and debris all over the harbor those tormented ships. There was nothing we could say.

Sixty Day at Sea. Torpedo nets were placed around the carrier and the crew worked all night. The Lexington slipped out in the faint dawn, heading the next 50 days at sea.

It was two days later, early on the 11th, that the old five-inch guns on Wake Island demoralized a Japanese invasion force in a 45-minute battle. Two destroyers were sunk, five of six remaining ships including a landing troop carrier were damaged. It was the United States' first authentic victory of the war.

In the two weeks that Wake held out, only one 48-hour period was without air attack. When the last Wildcat crashed up, the pilots and crew were ordered for infantry duty. For a while it was thought that help would come from Pearl Harbor.

When a reinforced Japanese invasion fleet returned on the moonless night of December 27-28, the carrier Saratoga and its task force were within striking distance. But the order for the carrier to move ahead and launch planes was countermanded on the 22nd. After a bitter battle, the tiny island surrendered at 7:30. Captain Greer was a prisoner of war until 1945, interned in Shanghai and later in Japan.

Invasion had been expected

A Pearl Harbor after the Japanese bombers pounded the island. The boys of the large population of Japanese and Japanese-Americans was suspected "As far as I know, as Mr. Van de Velde says, "There was no case of sabotage by these people. They were as shocked as we were."

"But we had another problem. The Hawaiian National Guard included many Americans of Japanese descent. We didn't know what would happen if the Japanese came ashore in American uniforms. These Japanese-Americans were pulled out and sent to the United States. They became the famous 100th Battalion that distinguished itself in Italy."

Mr. Klink was aboard the Lexington when it sunk during the battle of the Coral Sea. The first naval battle in history where the planes did all the fighting. Unable to swim, he survived by taking a life-jacket from a dead Marine sent to Bremerton Navy Yard. Washington, he worked on the U.S. Nevada, which he had just seen grounded in Pearl Harbor after the attack. He later served on the small carrier SS Bogue on anti-submarine patrol in the Atlantic, ending six years' service as a chief petty officer. He is Secretary-Treasurer of the Princeton War Company.

Mr. Van de Velde, ordered to Fort Ord in California six months after the Pearl Harbor attack, served in North Africa and Italy. He was in the 22 years service. He is executive secretary of the Woodrow Wilson School. Captain Greer is with the Forestal Research Center.

Looking back at the devastation and heroism at Pearl Harbor 25 years ago, Mr. Van de Velde says slowly, "Nobody ever forgets."

TOPICS Of The Town

SCHOOL ELECTION SET
For Princeton Region. The first Borough-Township school election will be held on February 7. Voters will elect a nine-member board of education for the Princeton Regional Schools, replacing the acting board appointed last July 1 by County Schools Superintendent Jack B. Twichell.

The ground rules were announced at last week's meeting of the acting board. Township residents will elect four members, one to serve for one year, two for two-year terms and one for a three-year term. The Borough will vote for five representatives, two to serve one-year terms, one for a two-year term and two for three-year terms.

Candidates have until 4 p.m. on December 29 to file. Applications may be obtained from Board Secretary Norman J. Anderson at the Stony Brook Administration Building. Candidates are required to state the length of the term they wish to serve.

Superintendent. The acting board also announced the appointment of three consultants to assist in screening candidates for school superintendent. Dr. McKenna is the principal candidate for this position. Dr. Harvey L. Rothberg, board president, stated, "He has done a remarkable job."

Professors Lawrence A. Cremin and Francis A. J. Ianni of Columbia University Teachers College and Dean Theodore R. Sizer of the Harvard School of Education will assist the board. Dr. Rothberg said that a decision will be announced in March, 1967.

The acting board voted to hold its next meeting on Tuesday, December 20 at 8 p.m. It adopted board policies covering such items as medical examinations for employees, student interviews, visitors, school collections and class assignments.

A lengthy presentation on the special services offered in the school system was made by Dr. Donald Clark, director, and staff members.

SIAMESE TWINS BORN
In Princeton Hospital. Siamese twin girls were born Tuesday, November 22, in Princeton Hospital. It was revealed this week. The birth is believed to be the first of its kind in New Jersey.

Parents of the infants are Dr. and Mrs. James Cantrell, 94 Einstein Drive. Dr. Cantrell is a visiting professor at the Institute for Advanced Study. A day after their birth, the twins were taken to St. Christopher's Hospital in Philadelphia where they will undergo surgery to separate them. The operation will be performed in about two weeks.

Spoken for. Princeton Hospital refused to give information about the twins, or to indicate where they are joined. At the parent's request, their birth was omitted from the weekly list issued by the Hospital to the press.

HEARINGS END

On Township Reads. The Township Planning Board held the second and final hearing on its road proposals last week. The Road Sub-Committee of the Board will now consider what residents and institutions have said, and make recommendations to the parent Board.

The Planning Board as a whole, is scheduled to discuss the road situation at its December 7 meeting. A committee of Springfield Road residents, and institutions concerned with the possible extension of Springfield, has been formed and will in the future, communicate with the Planning Board. It is expected that the Board will modify its plan for the extension of Springfield to a major artery.

HOVING TO SPEAK

At University Conference. New York City Parks Commissioner Thomas P. F. Hoving will speak at a conference on urban problems in New Jersey to be held next Wednesday, December 7, at the Woodrow Wilson School for Public and International Affairs.

The conference, entitled "New Jersey: Garden State—Urban State?" will be sponsored by the University and the New Jersey Society of Architects. Civic, business and government leaders from throughout New Jersey will also attend.

The conference will consist of three panel discussions and a joint luncheon. Mr. Hoving

You Think You Have Homework?

The nine members of the Princeton Regional Board of Education have a list of homework assignments which would impress even a high school sophomore.

Some things on the list may be decided before the February 7 elections and the presentation of the budget to the voters. Decision on others may have to wait. Here are the crucial questions:

- The budget itself, with an obvious deadline. It must be voted on by the electorate in February.
- Pupil allocation. Who will attend which school?
- Space. Additions must be made to Princeton High School — perhaps major ones — and to Johnson Park, where there are 11 classes in a school built for 10. Libraries for junior and senior high students are not up to standard. Science facilities for junior and senior high school scientists must be provided. The high school has a particularly serious problem in science laboratory space.
- Where will junior high school students attend school?
- Space for administrative staff is inadequate. The Stony Brook Administration Building cannot contain everyone.
- Should a four-year-old "nursery" kindergarten be implemented now or later?

Board of Education members are meeting once a week on these problems. Various Board sub-committees also meet. The administrative staff is carrying an extremely heavy load and, as one Board member phrased it, "I guess you could say the intra-board telephones are ringing 24 hours a day."

November?

He went that-a-way—
Down a road that's Wet and grey.

November took the last of the leaves left a normal amount of rainfall and introduced freezing temperatures — in the outlying areas, some around 20 degrees.

The first few days of December are expected to be dry, with the thermometer running slightly below normal. Snow? The long-range forecast insists it will fall at least twice before Christmas, but it was also predicted for this week and that now seems unlikely.

Topics Of The Town

will give the principal address at the luncheon and will discuss the political, social and economic problems that inhibit the creation of improved surroundings in New Jersey.

The Parks Commissioner graduated from Princeton University with the class of 1953 and went on to earn a Ph.D. in art history. He served on the staff of the Metropolitan Museum before his appointment as Parks Commissioner.

Other speakers at the conference will be Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development, Prof. Michael Dasilhon of the Woodrow Wilson School, and Alan Tenko, professor of environmental studies at the University of California.

The first panel will meet in the morning to discuss historical and political influences on the state's urban problems. Congressman Frank Thompson Jr. will be among the panel members.

A later discussion will center around possible approaches to the problems, and the final panel will discuss proposed solutions to urban problems. A period of open discussion among all the participants will conclude the conference. New York architect Robert Scahne will moderate the conference. Dean Robert L. Geades of Princeton's School of Architecture and John Diehl, secretary of the New Jersey Society of Architects, are the conference co-chairmen.

News Of The THEATRES

I'M GROWING UP ...
"Nutcracker" Ciel. 1st at Christmas, Kevin Thurn played Fritz to Debby Smith's Clara in the Princeton Regional Ballet production of "The Nutcracker."
Since then, Fritz has gained a cubit or two of stature, and so this Christmas he will play
the part of Drosselmeyer's nephew, Debbie. Debbie hasn't got quite so fast, so she will again be Clara.

"The Nutcracker" will be danced, pranced, acted, sung and loved at McCarter Theatre December 16, 17 and 18. Matinee seats are all sold out, but some allowed to stay up late, may still buy a ticket to the Friday, December 16 performance.
It starts at 8:30.

Other members of the company who have danced "The Nutcracker" before are Phyllis Papp and Dorothy Pettit. Regional Ballet dancers appearing in leading roles are Kathy Richards (Arabian Dance), Eve
Maxwell (Chinese Dance), Maxine Lampert (Candy Cane)
and Geoffrey Nelson as Fritz.

is eligible to try for a part.

Tryouts will be held on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, next Wednesday, in Murray Theatre on campus at 8:30 p.m. Membership in the Players is not required for tryouts.
The Absence of a Cello will be given in Murray Theatre on three January nights, January 15-14: 20: 21: 27-28. Loren Zisman will direct.

ENCORE!
Pinter is Next. "The Caretaker," Harold Pinter's classic of the absurd, will be presented by Theatre Intime this Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at 8:30 and next Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the same time in Murray Theatre on campus.

Freddie O'Brady, who will be remembered by audiences who saw McCarter's "Box and Coe" last spring, he was the land lady, will direct the Pinter play.
After "The Caretaker" has its run, Intime will sponsor
The New Group for Theatre in Princeton, "The Room" and Pinter's "Foursome," both directed by Susan Rosenblum.

JOINT PRODUCTION SET
At Lawrence High, Hamper-dinck's "Hansel and Gretel" will be presented by the Princeton Opera Association and the Princeton Ballet Society on Saturday at 11 a.m.
in the Lawrence High School Auditorium.

The production will be sponsored by the Ben Franklin School P.T.A. Tickets, which are on sale at the Franklin School, cost $1 for children, $1.50 for older students and $2 for adults.

URGENT FAMILY MOVIES
At Princeton Theatres, A "Family Movie Committee" is being formed, headed by Mrs.
Robert E. Clancy of 8 Newlin Road. "Our purpose is to encourage the Princeton theatres to show one family movie every week."

Mrs. Clancy has worked alone for several years to pressure Palmer Square Inc.

into booking films for the Playhouse and the Garden that are suitable for children and teenagers.

Among those who are lining up solidly behind her on the new committee are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Terry, Mrs. Alfred Bernhardt, Mrs. Basil J.
Robinson and Mrs. H. Richard Parcells.

Need Choice. "I feel there should be more of a choice for our young people," Mrs.
Terry says. "Especially during holidays. We don't object to the movies they are showing, this is after all a university town, but when they do show children's films, they don't all have to be Walt Disney. There are a lot of good, family-type films that are not coming to the Princeton theatres."

Richard W. Knight, manager of the Playhouse and the Garden, told Town Topics, "We do run children's movies occasionally. I find that if you run them every week, they lose their value. You have few people coming. I find it's better to have these films on an occasional, rather than on a regular basis."

"The Prince of Donagel" didn't jog one reason, he said, "Circus World," with John Wayne which ran for a full week, so as poorly attended that one audience had

recipies of $8.50. "The country over, you play a family movie and they don't support it." His grimmest example is "Hana Brinker" shown here some years ago.

Family His. On the other hand "Marty Popping" did very well at the box office here. Successful films that parents and children have enjoyed together have included "Born Free," "The Trouble With Angels," "My Fair Lady," "Kluge's," "The Magnificent Seven and Their Plying Machines," "Why did that only run for a week?" demands Mrs. Clancy, "How To Steal a Million," "Fantastic Voyage," "Debby Reynolds," films, and any and all slapstick comedies. They're concerned with profit. Mrs. Clancy says, "But families are out of the habit of going to the movies. We have told them that we will help publicize the films which show the school. We feel they can make a profit."

The Committee is upset that "The Christmas That Almost Wasn't" was canceled last weekend. But the Playhouse had tried to recoup by scheduling a "Culliver's" film this Saturday. The Committee has provided film distributor Dou Pappert, of Ruffert Theatres, a list of school holidays, so that he can schedule suitable films. I can't say that he has totally ignored us. During the last week the films have been passable. Mrs. Clancy states, "But families have to know that every Saturday movie will be all right. They can't be browsing through 15 magazines for critics' ratings. Last year, there were family shows on 19 out of 52 weeks. We kept track."

Parents' Groups. The Borough PTA last winter began exploring the possibility of a Saturday morning film series for youngsters, according to Mrs. J. Stuart Hunter, then vice-president, now president of the Witherspoon School PTA. "We gave serious consideration to a children's series. The PTA had sponsored the Children's Entertainment Series in response to requests for suitable plays for children. The complex arrangements for moving day, when Nassau and Witherspoon street schools closed, put the plan in abeyance."

The Littlebrook Elementary School PTA has for some years sponsored a children's film as a baby-sitting convenience on the parent conference days at the school. The film is obtained from a national distributor at a cost of $40 or $50, and the projector and operator are supplied by the school.

"My personal feeling," Mrs. William H. Angoff, Littlebrook PTA president, says, "is that many times there are no movies suitable for a child. But the children are not movie oriented. They don't have to go to the movies every Saturday."

The Family Movie Committee, according to Mrs. Clancy will rent their own films, if an arrangement can't eventually be worked out with the Playhouse and Garden.

Parents interested in the group should contact Mrs. Clancy or write to the Family Movie Committee at 1 Palmer Square.

How about a Fur-Lined Bottle with a Boat?

That's one gift you'll have trouble finding if you're looking for something unusual, but there are plenty more ...

Perfumed Drawer-Liner. Germaine Montell offers "Royal Secret" to a big trail of handsome drawer-liner paper. Designed with white floral garlands on pale cream. At Thom's.

Batik from India. Squares of superb batik, each signed by its Indian artist, about a yard square, $50 each. Fabric Find.

Rabbit with His Tail on Top. This rabbit has his on top instead of behind. It's a soft grey fur hat at Clayton's, with the bunny tail top.

Railroad Watch. An imitation of the old railroad watch, has giant numerals and each of the 60 seconds laid out on the dial. Keeps better time than the trains. Watch Shop on Chambers Street.

White evening umbrella. Stacy's contribution to your most exciting and formal evening - the night it rains torrents. Umbrella is white silk with rhinestone-studded top and black band.

Windowpane hose. Giddy gals will want Bailey's wide-mesh stockings, windowpane or chickenwire, whichever definition you prefer. Also floral mesh in white or black, to be worn with or without garters. Some styles are puffy.

Silver whistle. Tiffany's contribution to girl-watching. real silver whistle, $5.99 at LaVake's.

Verdi's Head. A music box, with Verdi tuning up "La Traviata." Stone's.

Beat in a Bottle. Ahhh! Didn't think we meant it, did you? Not fur-lined, but real and true. Country Mouse.

IT'S NEW To Us

WE'RE OFF!

Gaiety Aboard. Certainly the brightest and most dazzling holiday season is on the date-book for 1966, if the party-places we've found in Princeton shops are a clue.

Elsewhere, in a brief box, we've described the most striking gown in each shop, but if you think that's all ...

Mayme Mead: For a regal air, an exquisite blue silk linen in a long dress with a soft bodice of gathered blue chiffon. ... oyster silk turtleneck in princess style with short sleeves, in a short dress with straight jacket, covered with an opulence of gold sequins laid out in twisting road design, like a child's game. ... a long coral dress has a deep U-front and a deeper U-back. The fabric is an unusual silk wool-crayon combination.

Baileys: Applique crepe, short has two wide and flowing panels, front and back, and a U-neckline. $17.99. ... emerald satin, short and full, has engraved velvet and a circle of cuff at the long sleeve. ... in size 15, a champagne crepe has bell sleeves slit to the elbow, and a rhinestone trim.

Clayton's: Glen of Michigan produces a tailored silk blouse, long-sleeved, in red print to match a long red wool skirt. ... solid-color velvet skirt has a linen print shell on top.

Elise Goupil: Vera Maxwell's wool-silk tapestry cocktail dress is deepest raspberry, done with wrap effect and a side bow. Short sleeves. ... Hong Kong silk in Christmas red is a chrysanthemum print, held in with satin piping and curving, flattering princess-style seams, marked with red satin knots.

Nexus - Voorhees: Clitite separates here: a silver skirt and short skirt, brief tops in pink or blue knit covered in every stitch with dangles of iridescence to swing when you dance. ... cocktail tops are giddy: one is all white feathers, like a proud cock with a preen of white feathers at top. ... a toque is a sleek cap of pheasant feathers. ... sequins cover all of a knit top or evening wear.

Eller: Norah's white satin short dress, long-sleeved, prim-collared, with hip belt of sapphire-emerald ribbon and a matching neck tab. ... Bouffant's Paced print copy in brief cocktail with op-art waves of royal and red. ... Norah's flowing velvet chiffon with long, full sleeves. ... her long white silk gown with brief little bobble popover top of Chantilly lace. ... long skirts in royal, emerald, café white, to wear with Chantilly popover.

Downs: Maribon all around the low neckline of a long aqua crepe. ... a floor-length white gown with olive satin top that has a bab of gold and spangles.

Slacey: Long culottes, white color, with sleeveless top and fullness everywhere.

Flonington Sample Shop: Guy D's wild wool paisley in red-orange and puce with black etching. ... Cat sheathy silk, with betase neck and elbow sleeves, extravagantly ruffled. ... Guy D's salmon silk crepe with flounce skirt, scoop back and full sleeves, matched with full-length dark brown circular coat held with rhinestone buttons, lined with salmon like the dress. ... in flame red and dark purple, if you prefer, $61.

THE WEAR-WITH-ALL:
Party Accessories, Nassau Shoe Tree's silver or gold kid. From Carous. has slant buck and square buckle. The silver time has a more pointed toe and a narrow edging of silver leather. Comes in gold, too.

A low Louis heel sustains Realife's rounded-toe sling with its oval buckle edged in brilliant silver or gold. Gold kid is the substance of a low pump which also comes in a silvery aqua or champagne suede. In these colors, a matching bag.

For little gals who like a dancing flat, Shoe Tree has a slimmer in gold. For any girl who wants to mix and match, Shoe Tree has a classic white silk pump, dabble with flowerets of rhinestones on round-toed vamp and around the outside.

The bag you carry or give, might be Clayton's severe peau de sole in black, with two outside pockets. From Coibent at $25. A chiffon clutch is cranberry, moss or champagne, with matching satin bow and chain to hold handle.

Grandmother's elegance will be enhanced by French Shop's gunmetal satin bag with grey beaded handle and sides, and a floral design in front.

... and Black Velvet. Silver clasp has been used for Cummins' soup purse with handle. A brocade in an unusual gold and brown would be wonderful with your Christmas mink. A similar bag is white, shot with silver and gold. Some of these bags are like small totes, squares and upright. Jewel tones of satin make Cummins' pouch bags, and there's a black velvet, too, soft as a midnight kiss.

Pay Up, Daddy!

She had that "Wow!" gleam in her eye as she opened the door of the jewelry shop. "How much is that bug plated with windows?" she asked the lady inside. "Three ninety-five," the lady replied. "That's $3.95, isn't it?" the customer asked. "That's right," the lady nodded. "Would you like to see it?" "No, I've seen it," she said with a knowing grin. "All I need now is to have my husband to see it!"

It's New To Us

He is a long hair bag, iridescent as a dawn. One bag—$14—opens from both sides to show the white satin fittings inside. A pouch, with beaded handle, is lined with pale blue. This one is $14, too. If color is your preference, Shoe Tree has a tonal-red satin drum with gold rope handle.

GOT A MAN?

Dress Him Up. We're not quite sure what the man in your life will wear when you wear all that glitter. It might even be University Store's raw silk sport shirt—you know how devastatingly handsome he is in a sport shirt. This one comes in three patterns and six colors for $8.95.

If he likes something less glamorous, Ustore suggests those machine-washable wool and nylon shirts in gold, blue-grey or orange in softly beduon tones. $12.95.

Viella shirts are almost a gift classic in some families—like the traditional necktie. English Shop and Harry Balbut are both devoted to Viella.

At Princeton Clothing, young men are remembered with paisley and color in $6 and $7 sports shirts. White business shirts here are Vano-Pres, so throw away the iron. Buy a permanent press pair of slacks at P. Clothing, too. $7-10.

To Show Off His Watch. Suede vests in a seductive fawn shade, are $18.50 at The English Shop, and some vests here are reversible: green wool to gold brocade! $10.

Sweater come in great colors this year at The English Shop: a new wine, dark as the wine-dark sea, dark blue, green. . .

Army-Navy suggests, after you've bought a plaid or paisley sport shirt, why not several turtle-neck jerseys? This store has them in about 14 colors, so you'll just have to buy more than one.

The C.P.O. is the Army-Navy shirt we like best: it's heavier than a lot of outdoor jackets, in dark navy or wine, and since it starts in neck size 13½, we'll bet his daughter grabs it Christmas morning before he has a chance to try it on.

A Switch to Keep Him Warm. English Shop's $32.50 sweater is pure, pure cashmere hair without a hint of wool. It's the softest thing in town.

At Princeton Clothing, that machine-washable wool cardigan at $12 is a cute V-neck style. At Ustore, that "adult" sweater (whatever they mean by THAT) in dark bottle green, slate blue or tan, is a mohair-wool boucle knit cardigan. $16.95.

Bamberger's brings from France a sweater-vest with long, fine knit sleeves and back and a wide-wale corduroy front. We like it in sand. Vests at Bam's can be a woaded black velvet, or a comfy olive wool. And that English pullover? It's hand-knit bulky sweater the color of outcrop in a cold morning, done in a conservative stitch, not a wild Irish.

The scarf from Bamberger's could be a quiet silk square, $3.50, in dark print or paisley, but then it could be a silk ascot at the same price, made of light, fine tie silk. For a little fun, buy Bamberger's silk keechief, so folded that he can use it as a glasses case, right up there in his left breast pocket. Sneaky, but convenient.

The University Store imports from Italy a silk paisley scarf that reverses to plain wool. Purry-duzzy scarves are yourself.

Stance's pure linen handkerchiefs, monogrammed, are $2 like the ascot at $3.50, each, and we know a lady who too, either in solids or prints, gives them to friends instead.

Lake convenience? Princeton Clothing's machine-washable, dryable wool socks are almost a Christmas present for you.

New Of The Theatres

PRINCE
Tears Across the River (now playing) The wild, wild West was never as wild as this, but what can you expect with Joey Bishop as a dead-end Indian and Dennis Martin as a rugged frontiersman on horseback. The Indians will destroy all over the place, longhorn cattle stampede and Rosemary Forsyth flutters around in a wicker chair. The show is a riot, a main series of spots on screen from every theatre.

THE COMEDY is full of surprises and night eyes. Alvin Delon cast as a young Spanish nobleman, laments the Old World gallantry wherever he goes, "being quite a comical piece of work." The play shows a U.S. Cavalry charge after horse country Delon, racing through herds of warriors on horseback, who simply put it to the sword. The cavalry through. At the end of the charge, a sergeant calls the captain. "Want 'Did you see all those Indians?" Says the brave captain, "Want Indians."

Applause . . .

Two members of former McCarthy Theatre repertory companies have received praise — lavish praise, in at least one instance — from theatre critics for current performances.

Donald Moffat's work in Pirandello's "Right You Are," which opened on Broadway last week in the AFA repertory, was highly commended by almost every reviewer, particularly by Walter Kerr of the New York Times, who devoted much of his review to Mr. Moffat.

Clarence Felder was cited in a national publication — The Saturday Review — for his portrayal of Pirandello's "The Real Hunt of the Sun" in Atlanta's new "Theatre Alliance."

All ages should enjoy this.

GARDEN

KEY, I WON!

More than 300 boys and girls entered McCarthy Theatre's "Snow Game" contest. The winners were two winners at each of the three Thanksgiving days. The winners were chosen by a jury of permanent and honorable mention winners, too, and winners were called in a stage to accept, and the excitement was nearly unbearable.

All winners received gift certificates for the Princeton University Store.

Friday afternoon winners: Diana Dickson, age 5, of 5 East Hibben Apartments and Joy Ann, age 4, of 1001 Edgewater Place, Saturday morning winners: Michael Fustich, age 7, of 1001 Edgewater Place, Jill Allen, age 5, of Trenton, Saturday afternoon winners: Gary Annunen, age 8, of 7 Greenwood Ave. Hopewell, and Lisa Buchler, age 10, of 36 Boudinot Street.

Honorable mentions were won on Friday by Robert Gruber, age 10, of 1001 Edgewater Place, Sherrick, Jill Hutton, Norma Sherrick and Lisa Mann.

Saturday morning, honorable mention was awarded to Julie Mead, Sydney Brookbank, Nat Wilton, Anne Marie Hannon and Michael Fomali.

Saturday afternoon children receiving honorable mention were Cathy Cantrell, Lucille Fresno, Meme Gossard, Sue Fesco, Lauren Manasse and Sophie Carpenter.

TEENS STAGE DANCE

And Workshops. In a bustle of activity last week, Princeton teenagers held a workshop to transform Trinity Church's nursery into a coffeehouse, another workshop to ready their photo exhibit for the new Princeton Public Library and a third to complete plans for Friday's benefit dance.

The dance added $450 to their $1400 bank account towards a student center. The soul Set, led by guitarist Bob Korman, 15, donated their own and the Italian-American Sportsman's Club donated a room for dancing.

Consensus of the chaperones at the dance: "An outstanding athletic event to music, for which the adults there felt admiration, enjoyment, and a certain wishfulness about the young earlier athletic prowess." Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Rogers Carrington, Mr. and Mrs. James Margolis, Mrs. Carrington and Mr. Carrington.

said He added that the one-binder on Monday had brought New Jersey's rainfall just about up to normal. — November was running dry.

The Almanac: The Old Farmer had predicted a coastal storm for November 23-29.
Asked whether Almanac was a reliable crystal ball, Mr. Ludlum said, well, we tend to remember the times it's right.

CYCLIST REARS TRUCK
Cats Reared 10 Sutures, A 21-year-old cyclist received a two- and one-half inch laceration of his scalp early Monday evening when he ran into the rear of a panel truck during one of the day's frequent periods of heavy rain.

David Livingston, 46 Henry Avenue, was taken by the Fire Aid and Rescue Squad to Princeton Hospital where 10 sutures were used to close his scalp wound. Mr. Livingston also sustained a slight fracture of his ring finger and hand cuts.

The victim told Sgt. Arthur Gulian he had his head down and did not see the truck in front of him which had stopped to make a left turn onto Spring from Witherspoon.
The mishap took place at 5:37 p.m.
during a heavy rain and visibility was poor. David W.
Fabian, 25, of Morrisville, Pa. was the driver.

Woman Hit: About a half hour earlier, Mrs. Dorothy Lupichuk, 40, of Hamilton Square, was knocked to the roadway by a car while she was crossing Nassau Street toward the bus terminal office on the corner of Witherspoon Street. She was taken by her husband to Princeton Hospital where she was treated for 1 consent of the left hip.

John R. Arbitell, 48, of Trenton, the driver, was ticketed for failing to yield to a pedestrian at a crosswalk. He told police he had started to make his turn when suddenly he noticed a woman on the ground. Mrs. Lupichuk was two-thirds of the way across when she was hit, police said.

A passenger was slightly injured at 4:10 Saturday afternoon when two 1960 conversibles, both traveling west on Mercer Road, collided.

The passenger, Takeji Suzuki, 37, of Rockaway, received abrasions of the leg and knee.
He was not treated. Mr. Suzuki was riding in a car operated by Aldo S. Coultas Jr., 39, of Madison.

The Coultas car was struck from behind by another driven by Marvin Treiman, 26, 196 Birch Avenue. After the impact, it continued about 95 feet onto the lawn at 263 Mid-er, knocking down a mailbox along the way.

Mr. Treiman told police he noticed the car in front slowing and he applied his brakes but he did not to avoid a collision. Police said there were no skid marks left at the scene.

TAMS RE-APPOINTED
As Borough Magistrate
Theodore T. Tams Jr. has accepted appointment to his third term as Borough Magistrate.
Mayor Henry S. Patterson announced this week.

Magistrate Tams was first appointed to the post by former mayor Raymond F. Male, taking office on January 1, 1958. Magistrates are named for a three-year term.

Mayor Patterson also announced appointments for Bor-

bers, Republican Charles Curran and Democrat Robert Hendry.

Mr. Hendry will be the new Fire Commissioner, replacing Elwood W. Godfrey, whose term in Council ended December 31. Mr. Cornforth will be chairman of the Finance Committee, a post also held by Dr.
Godfrey.

Joseph Strayer, like Dr. Godfrey, will go off Council on December 31. He has held the Health portfolio and so far, no Councilman has been named to succeed him in that position.

I TOLD YOU SO . . .
Almanac Predicted Rain,
Monday's rain — slightly under in the — was predicted by the Old Farmer's Almanac, observed Princeton's weatherman, David Ludlum, on a cloudy morning after.

The storm, known as a "cenary," was related to the primary storm that dumped snow on the Atlantic coast.
Princeton and environs were on the eastern side of the storm in the warm sector, and so received rain instead of snow.

Winds in Princeton on Monday were about 35 m.p.h. from the east. The barometer took a very sharp drop to 29.85, Mr.
Ludlum said, then made a very sudden rise when the clap of thunder came around 3 Monday afternoon.

"The storm was a baby of the same type as the famous November 25, 1950, or 'Dartmouth' storm," Mr. Ludlum explained. He referred to the hurricane that struck during the Princeton-Dartmouth football game in 1950.

The cold air that nipped into Princeton on Tuesday was a whiff of polar air, Mr. Ludlum

The question of permanent waving in relation to surgery or other physical conditions revolves primarily around one factor... the condition of the hair fiber at the time of waving.

Various ailments may or may not affect hair fibers. But if the hair has been adversely affected by illness, surgery or shock or other health factors, it is evident to the experienced beautician through appearance and "feel" if the hair is limp, dry, lifeless or otherwise abnormal. It will not provide a proper foundation for permanent waving. Re-conditioning is then necessary, with waving delayed until the hair proves satisfactory.

For all types of hair problems, have them solved permanently at TAVERNWOOD BEAUTY MANOR, 68 Palmer Square West, or call 924-3983.

Remember to make your holiday appointment early!

MUSIC In Princeton

SERKIN IN DEBUT
Sun to Play, Peter Serkin, destined to go through life as the "son of Rudolf" will appear on the "Music-Magnum" series next February. Mr. Serkin will replace Leon Fleisher, who has cancelled his scheduled Princeton appearance because of illness.

The 20-year-old son of the Russian pianist has already established his own reputation, and has been cited by critics as one of the country's brightest young talents. For his Princeton recital on February 2, he has chosen Beethoven's "Diabelli" Variations. Tickets for the McCarter box-office open on December 12.

BACH AND ALBENIZ
The dynamic Spanish pianist, Alicia de Larrocha, will play from a varied repertoire which includes both Bach and Albeniz when she makes her Princeton debut at the McCarter Theatre on Monday, December 12, at 8:30.

For her Princeton appearance, Mme. de Larrocha will play the English Suite No. 6 by Bach, Schubert's Sonata in A, excerpts from Albeniz' "Iberia" suite and "Nevada." She will also play for the concert the compositions of Saler and Schoenberg.

BOYCHOIR TO PERFORM
In Christmas Concert, The Columbus Boychoir will perform its fifth annual Christmas Concert at the McCarter Theatre on Thursday, December 22. The evening performance will be given at 8:15, and a special children's matinee will be given at 2:30. The concert will feature Gian-Carlo Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors," a long-time Christmas favorite. The Boychoir has performed "Amahl" throughout the U.S. and in Canada, Latin America and Europe. Chet Allen will sing the lead.

The program will also include Benjamin Britten's version of "Carols," as well as traditional hymns and carols. Music director Donald Bryant will conduct the 80-voice Boychoir and the adult voices of the Alumni Choir. The concert will be sponsored by the Columbus School P.T.A. and will benefit the school. Concert chairman is Mrs. Fisher Barrows of Lawrenceville. Tickets are on sale at the School from parents of Boychoir members and at McCarter Theatre.

UNIVERSITY CONCERT SET

Sunday's concert will feature the Bach Brandenburg Concerto I, Stravinsky's "Symphonies of Wind Instruments," Mahler's "Lieder einer Fahrennden Geister" and Brahms' "Variations on a Theme by Haydn." Ellis Valentine, a graduate of Westminster Choir College, will be the soprano soloist.

The concert is open without charge to the public. There will be a reception after the concert in the rotunda of the Chancellor Green Student Center for members and friends of the orchestra.

The school's director, Miss Frances Clark, will direct the Piano Playshop program with the parents.

The Playshop is a program of music readiness designed to introduce children to music through the rudiments of the keyboard and musical notation. It is designed to awaken an interest in taking music.

The program also enables parents to determine their child's interest in music before investing in formal lessons. Although the coffee hour is primarily for parents, others interested in the Playshop are also invited.

Send Christmas Greetings to Viet Nam

As it did last December, TOWN TOPICS again takes pleasure in listing the names and addresses of men from the Princeton area who are currently serving with the armed forces in Viet Nam. Half a world away from home, they will welcome cards or letters from everyone who will take a moment to send them a word of greeting at Christmas-time.

It will cost only the price of a domestic airmail stamp — eight cents — and the Post Office has announced that it will make every effort to speed delivery. Those who have relatives serving in Viet Nam are welcome to list name, rank, serial number and address in TOWN TOPICS next week, making the information to arrive by Monday, December 4, at P.O. Box 864, Princeton.

It would be less than honest to call it a station wagon.

We can't look you square in the eye and call this car a station wagon.

Compared to our bus-like station wagon, it just isn't big enough to deserve the name. But we can positively call it a Squareback Sedan.

So we will. It's a Squareback Sedan. It costs $2,295.* And this is what you get:

You get a Volkswagen that holds 5 people plus a decent amount of luggage. Or 2 people plus an indecent amount of luggage: twice as much as the trunks of the biggest sedans.

You get everything that we've learned about making Volkswagens: the air-cooled rear engine, the torsion bar suspension, the synchromesh transmission, the blobless finish, the airtight fit.

You also get some things you never got on a VW: more power, disc brakes in the front, seats that adjust 49 ways, and a dozen other innovations.

But good as it is, it's a bus it's not.

So if you want to be brutally honest, you can think of the Squareback as a less-than-perfect station wagon.

But we'd rather have you think of it as a more-than-perfect sedan.

The committee's four volunteer sub-committees are working on problems associated with planning the new school. The time-table set by the State Commissioner of Education requires that the Montclair Township board of Education submit preliminary plans within a few months.

The Committee hopes that those with suggestions will make them in the near future. Suggestions should be directed to Dr. Louis Shor, chairman of the Committee. William Shepley, chairman of the sub-committee on curriculum; Arthur Abrams, chairman of the sub-committee on finance; and E. Bennett, chairman of the sub-committee on activities or William Panley, chairman of the sub-committee on building.

SCHOOLS ARE TARGETS

Of Vandals, Intruders. The Hun School, Valley Road and Littlebrook schools were visited by vandals or intruders over the Thanksgiving week-end.

Dr. Paul Chesebro, Hun Headmaster, called Township police Saturday morning to report that someone had entered the main front doors the previous night and removed a dictating machine from his office valued between $200 and $300. From there, the intruders proceeded to the Poo Lounge and stole a TV set, also valued at between $200 and $300. An attempt to enter the school's mailroom by removing pins from the door hinges failed.

Dr. Chesebro told police the main front doors are never locked. He added that the students were not in school at the time because of the holiday.

A passing motorist alerted Township police at 9:35 Sunday evening when he told them he thought he saw someone moving about inside the Valley Road School. Investigating, police said they found a window had been broken allowing someone to reach in and unlock a rear door.

The child guidance room and main office were ransacked. It is unknown whether, if anything, was taken. Detective Fred Porter reported that police believe they were able to scare the perpetrators away before they took any thing.

William Birch, Littlebrook School superintendent of buildings and grounds, called Monday morning to report that someone had tried to turn the glass and metal all-off doors located on the south side of the school leading from the playground to a corridor. Police said that apparently a small butane torch was used. The doors were blackened and smudged.

Five windows in the vicinity of the doors had been broken by rocks.

Apartment Entered. Mohammed Guesous called Borough police at 5:44 Monday afternoon to report that someone had entered his apartment between 1:15 and 3:30 by slipping the front lock.

Items known to be taken are a portable typewriter and a portable radio. Mr. Guesous' apartment is in the building at 172 Nassau Street.

On Saturday, someone entered an opened garage door to gain entry to the home at 48 Magnolia Lane. Mrs. Priscilla Kahn, the owner, told police she had left the garage doors open that morning for the garbage man.

Police said that entry was gained apparently through a garage door leading to the living room. There were no signs of forced entry.

Police report that all dresser drawers and closets in the bedroom were ransacked and women's clothing strewn about. Apparently, they added, there was no larceny as a valuable mink fur and set of pearls were left behind. The only item reported missing was a $10 pair of women's slippers.

SECOND MAN CHARGED

In Star Inn Holdup. Detective Fred Porter of the Township Police has charged James Lee Thomas, 26, 85 S. Clinton Avenue, Trenton, as the accomplice of Arthur Humphreys in the Star Inn holdup on Birch Avenue on July 22. The previous day, Detective Porter had charged Humphreys with armed robbery.

November 14 when they were apprehended trying to enter cars in a Suite House parking lot in Trenton. At the time, Humphreys was arrested under an assumed name, but his real identity was uncovered by the State Prosecutor's office.

By means of "line-up" arrests, Detective Porter said that both men have been positively identified by victims of the Star Inn holdup. The latter was a doublet who had been paid the pair about $350 in cash, a watch and a ring. They used a .380 Smith & Wesson and a revolver to hold up four patrons who were on the scene.

Humphreys is currently in maximum custody in Mercer County Jail. Detective Porter said he is wanted in New York for a holdup and robbery which a three-year-old child was shot. "Detainers on Humphreys are coming in from all over the country," said Det. Porter. He is wanted in Tennessee for a murder he allegedly committed during a holdup and robbery of a bar and he is also wanted in Milwaukee.

YOUTH PLEADS GUILTY

To Drunken Driving. Speeding. An 18-year-old Hamilton Avenue youth walked in, unannounced, to Borough Court Monday evening and pleaded guilty to separate charges of drunken driving and speeding. Lawrence A. Reilly, 153 Hamilton, was fined a total of $605. His license was automatically revoked for two years on the drunk driving charge and, in addition, it will be revoked on the speeding charge for a test he will be by the Division of Motor Vehicles.

"We were surprised when he showed up," commented Lt. Francis Maguire. His name wasn't listed on the court calendar and we didn't even have the arresting officer's name. Lt. Maguire added that the drunken driving charge had been pending since August 31 and that Reilly, a college student, had failed to appear on previous occasion.

The speeding charge had been on a separate offense of a license in which Borough police charged Reilly with driving 60 miles per hour on Washington Road, Theodore T. Pans, who was the presiding magistrate.

FIVE LOSE LICENSES

For Speeding. Five Princeton area drivers have lost their licenses suspended, each for 30 days, by the Division of Motor Vehicles for speeding this month. The meeting will be held in the Littlebrook library at 8:15 p.m.

They are: Glenn M. White, 26, 242 Washington Road; Harriet K. Greenblatt, 19, 60 Wiltner Court; Andrew Hunsaid, 70, RD 1, Sunset Hill; Marilyn J. Mont, 18, Sky View Drive; Hopewell; and Morton E. Grossman, 43, Poor Farm Road, Pennington.

Four others were halted under the state's point system. Bruce C. Edmonds, 18, Province Line Road; and Olga T. Smith, 35, 320 Western Avenue, lost their licenses for one month. Robert W. Sangston, 23, 8 E. Avenue, Hopewell; his for 45 days and Kenneth M. Kaye, 19, 2 Homestead, for Roosevelt for three months.

CONCERT PLANNED

By Hopewell Chorus. The Hopewell Valley Chorus will present its annual Christmas concert on Friday, December 9, at 8:30 p.m., at the Hopewell Elementary School.

The concert will be conducted by Jack Hitchcock. Admission will be free.

The chorus presents two concerts annually, one in December and one in May, and sings for various community groups. The chorus, president of the organization, extends an invitation to all in the Hopewell Valley who enjoy singing to join.

FIVE CARS ENTERED

On Jefferson Road. Borough Police reported a systematic looting Sunday night of five parked cars on Jefferson Road. The cars were parked at 96, 88, 84, 82 and 81 Jefferson. All but the latter were in the rear of the homes. Its owner, Wilbert Hammond, told police that the cars were parked in the front drive. He lost a pair of binoculars and a pipe.

Serge Sobolevich of Jefferson, said his car's rear seat had been pulled out and a $1500000 stolen. All owners reported their car's glove compartments were ransacked.

In other news involving cars, Dr. Thomas James, 63 Vandewater Avenue, called police to report that his car had been stolen on Sunday. He added that his medical bag, which he carries in his car, had been left behind and its contents were intact.

A car with Wisconsin plates reported stolen from a P. M. lot in Princeton on November 20 was recovered when it was involved in an accident Saturday in Danville. Va. Danville police identified driver of the car, a 1962 convertible, as 60 miles per hour on Washington Road, Theodore T. Pans, who was the presiding magistrate.

The motor and entire wiring of a car owned by Andrew Chanko were destroyed by fire early last week while it was parked in a lot behind 244 Nassau. P. M. Stanley Doud doused the blaze with a powder extinguisher from his patrol car. Chanko is a Trenton resident.

"This is Engine Company No. 1 on Chestnut Street," said the voice. "I want to report a fire." Friday morning at 11:35, Robert Schafer, Chief of the Princeton Volunteer Firemen, called Borough police to report that an old woodshed, once along side the firehouse building was a-burne. Sgt. Michael Carnevale put out the fire with an extinguisher from his patrol car, aided by a water hose from No. 1.

What's All This about Art?

You won't find Aristotle contemplating the bust of Homer, although there are possibilities here that designers might explore. anyhow, you may not find Diderot, but you'll find Art all over the place this Christmas in the clothing shops. We begin with...

Peruvian garments: Elle has Boul'Mich's short, intense purple with inverse arches in violent red shooting up from a neckline, embellished with lime, purple and red in ancient geometric forms taken from the Incas. They can see you coming all the way from Peru.

Op Art: Cummings' silver-silver evening gowns are either op art squares in shades of silver or an overlay of over-laid silver geometries.

More Op Art: Donna's silver-silver shift makes those evening bags square for square, if "square" is the word for the kind of swinger who would wear this dress.

Still More Op Art: An evening shell at Neval-Voorhes has vertical rows of nickel-sized pellets: a row of silver, a row of black, with shifting patterns as the bright discs move in the light. And how they rustle!

It's New To Us

him dry with black umbrellas, black leather handie. Harry Bailor in a London Fog raincoat.

Zero King carcoats, at English Shop and Ustore, are "a young man's coat," and that includes everybody we know. The shell is grey-brown suede, the lining is orlon nite. English Shop's Mighty Mac is beige suede with orlon plaid, and comes in different lengths, from 12½, and what a present that would be!

Army-Navy's warmer is pin-wale corduroy with "sheep" lining, even on the patch pockets. Fingertip length, brown. Wool pea-jackets, or share here, are navy blue. What did you expect? Boots at Army-Navy are lined or unlined, ankle or calf height. A classic, with moc toe, laces all the way up to here.

Richard's new shoe store on Nassau, has a brown suede men's boot, slightly rounded in the toe, with padded leather lining to keep out all the cold. $19.50. It has a heavy-treaded sole — no slipping in this one.

Another Richard's boot is a slip-on suede with rubber sole. This one comes "wavy" above the ankle, for those deep snows.

An ankle shoe in this shop looks like a fine Jodhpur boot. $27.50. Its lower, shoe-height companion is a suave buckled slipper for $22.50.

Why not give him a Bostonian toter? Richard's starts at $19.20 and comes in smooth or pebble finishes.

Bamberger's lofter is so wonderfully antiqued he'll think somebody broke it in for him. A face-lined moccasin is nice and tawny, with loops of hand-stitching holding sole to upper. It comes in low or ankle height.

PERFUMES IN THE AIR

Everywhere... The scent of the season, greet you when you walk into Thorne's. Germaine Monteil's "Royaume" is the big excitement here. There's even a "Royal Secret" room spray, to match the drawer paper, and quarter-size lingerie wafers in pale cream with moiré trim. (Monteil's There are 24 in a box for $5.)

Monteil packaging, in lush, rich with gold ribbon, is almost festivity itself. Thorne's, the gold-toned facoun spray concentrate would be making to come on Christmas morning.

Thorne imports, like Parfums Weil "Secret de Venus" are always favorites at this time of year. When you buy the perfume for $5, you get the perfume free, as a Christmas present to you.

Carven's "Robe d'Or Sain," "Ma Griffe," "Vert et Blanc" are as sophisticated as ever. Nina Ricci presents "L'Air du Temps," in soap, aromatic spray ($6.50), dusting powder, eau de toilette ($2.50), bath oil ($7.50) and toilette water spray. Her "Capricci" is exclusively delicate.

Femininity, While we were at the Thorne counter, a mother bought Diorisians for her 16-year-old, a deliciously young, exciting fragrance. "Miss Dior" and "Diorling" are in the family, too.

"Like love, it must be experienced," says Frances Denney of her "Interlude." Milk bath, spray body oil, body perfume, spray body powder, dusting powder...Milk Denney has them all. You'll want the high oval raspberry satin drum with bath and body perfume, cologne and purse fiasco.

Houblant is still enthusiastic about "Les Nouveaux" and the colognes, spray mists, powders and eaux de toilette. The same company has the Chantilly you have loved for years.

And Yardley! The Merrie English theme this year brings contemporary packaging to this old favorite, random stripes of pinks or lavender are hallmarks for "Red Roses," "English Lavender."

Coty wraps its fragrances in velvety olive, shockingly so, quoter, orange. Spray mist and dusting powder together are $9.25 in a pair. Coty's Coty fragrance, Dusting powder, skin perfume, bath oil and mist $14.50, "Eau de Cologne," "Impression," "L'Aliment," "L'Origine."

Slip on Black Lace, At Marsh and Company, L'Oréal is the favored line. The little cardboard French case, "La Maison de Bezaute," holds two bottles of nail polish, two lipsticks for a frivolous little stocking present. A tapestry drum or box holds nail enamel, too.

Marcel Rochas "Femme" has been slipped into a black lace box on the Marsh shelf. This is a memorable eau de Cologne. Tavecher's "Jungle Gardens" and "Mediterranean" of "Fardes" "Je Reviens" — of course you remember!

For the young, Max Factor packages a Coquette Mirror. Buttiqur two lipsticks and a mirror with assay, 1920's flapper face painted on the back. Also is another Marsh pet. This line is mostly for you, you, you. It contains moisturizing lotions for hands and a skin cleanser.

A Facial, For You. And of course, Marshall's most welcome newcomer is the Saunda Facial. Saunda, that wonderful facial bath that washes out all the impurities in your skin — and incidentally does your nasal passages some good, or bards.

At State Discount, the brands are Lavin, Gherlain, Notabehell, Yardley, Fabergé, Rubinstein. Try Ambush cologne, dry good, or bards oil.

Daddy, Get in Line. Men this year will ask for British Sterling, sold in Princeton at The Watch Shop, Chambers Street. The cologne comes in a stern black leather container for travel.

Country Mouse joins the cosmetic ranks with Caswell-Smith's "Cp., Ltd. The Lemony Lime" "Tocquer Club." "New party" fragrances are staunchly classic in fragrance and packaging. "Pestian Leather" comes in a dark brown "leather" box he's sure to like.

Monsieur Lavinia's "Figaro" leads the list at Marshall's. The "Dux" "Cane" line never fails, nor does the Lenthier "Oxyx." Marcel Thoe's presents "Moustache" and "Its Kides" of France, a fine line colorage. Aquin de Colons. Freres is Mifreine. Chanel's new Chanel for men, is the newest alternative of the season.

Marsh and Thorne like that called "Jaguar" of Yardley's — the one that comes in a cage named "Rouquet Cargo" with a tiny hot red, padlock! That's how him!

English Leather is another Thorne and Marsh comrade. Thorne and Marsh suggest Revlon's "Pals" in its molasses-brown English spackling, flow about that dark brown soap-on-a-rope. Old Spice, Dunhill and Revlon's "The Man" are fixing their muscles at Thorne's. Bamberg's joins Thorne in praising Jade. Jade, a man's classic by now. At State Discount, Old Spice, English Leather, 4711, Black Watch, Dante, Jade, East, Jaguar, That Man and Yardley.

KEEP ME WARM

At Home or Abroad. All this leads us to — something to tangle up to. "At Home" clothes this year are scarcely distinguishable from bodorities, so we'll draw just a filmy line between the two.

The true artistocrat is Edith's Dynasty Chinese brocade and green flowers on gold, lined with emerald silk. It's fitted, coachman style and sweeps to the floor. Color is mandatory in tailoring impeccable $110. The "Ginger Rogers" outfit

The Pleasure of Your Attendance . . .

Christmas, 1966, is a glittery frolic of color, shine and sparkle. You'll have a very special New Year's Eve in any of these:

Bamberg's: We begin with the wildest wig in town: a complete head-covering of silver Christmas ribbon tied in bows, with long, frantically purple ear-bobs dangling from each ear. Happy New Year!

Flemington Simple Shop: Barba Streindaw wore this one: orlon knit with hot purple skirt, brightly Kelly empire top and white collar with bow.

French Shop: American beauty with long, princess line, square neck in heavy silk-rayon-worsted.

Clayton's: Cotton damask skirt with velvet-trimmed shells in happy colors; rose-rust gold damask with rust top, for example, $40.

Weatherwax: Hot yellow for hotter pink! wool crepe cocktail dress by Ade, deep gold turtleneck with two rhinestone buttons for trim, $50.

Ellie: Satei silk cocktail dress in shocking pink with gold-banded hem, U-neckline and gold shoulder bow.

Stacy: Long sheath made of sequin strips shaded from black to grey to silver, $80.

Rallye's: Long, simple white crepe with empire top all white sequins, U-neckline and deep back, $29.98.

Nassau Shoe Tree: Silver-gold brocade to dazzle on a classic pump with slim, flatting mid-heel.

Ellie Gough: Bright rose-pink Hong Kong brocade three-piece suit banded with one-inch pink satin like the gold-pink satin overblouse. Jacket is color to a mandarin's.

Donna: Creamy wool jersey, short or straight to the floor, hand with gold.

Nevius-Voorhees: Aqua chiffon, flowing to the floor like a full-length poncho, over a straight undershirt. Bow at back.

Wayne Mead: Air France blue (deep, but not navy) silk in size 10, sleek to the floor with nothing but flawless lines. Bateau neck in front; very, very deep square decollete in back leading to brisk skirt fullness.

Edith's is a long and slinky black crepe, edged at hem and cuff of long tight sleeves with black maroon. The maroon even goes looping around the high neckline to end in a pointed collar. Wear it with one of Thorne's long, jeweled der.

For a short brocade robe (chartrous fashions on gold cut with full back and the style of a real coat, $30. One of their prettiest is perfectly plain white ribbed cotton, short with high, round neck, and ask perry greenish bows down the front in orange, blue, green and gold.

"Campus Girl?" At Landau's the quilted robes are nylon Kod fiber fill as light and warm as a blanket of snow. Solid shrimp color, or a blue print of roses, $10.98. One long robe at Landau's is arnel fleece with decorative collar and front band. It's pink or blue, and its name is . . . "Campus Girl."

Vivella makes Clayton's short paisley robe. Its greens and blues are piped in satin, $30. You may like it in blues and purples. Warm and soft in either combination.

Bamberg's tight black velvet pants are very much in mind, most robes are quilted calico, in one length and form or another. We do have a warm, solid fireman's red (or navy) in a coachman's robe, flared out to the floor.

Time for Red. One gown at Nevius-Voorhees shows a provocative shoulder with a single spaghetti strap, and a wide sholder has the brat of a wide, diagonal ruffle. The gown is pale blue.

Brilliant lemon yellow is a startling refresher in the lingerie department. Nevius-Voorhees shows a short gown with tulle ruffles everywhere. A long, black gown lined with nude — a round-collared, pink fleece gown with a point of embroidery. Like contrast?

Slippers, gown and robe all match at Bailey's. Here's a melon colored dress with wide neckline and satin embroidery. The gown-robe set is $18.98.

The slippers, $3.88. A peignoir-Continued on page 26

shift gown set in white, with wide lace bertha collar, is $15. Bailey's separate gown for Christmas Eve is in white or gold trim edged with satin and hanging from a yoke $5.98.

Who not a little bed-jacket for Sunday morning reading in bed? Bailey shows you one with a becoming lace yoke, shoe pink or blue: $3.98. Another bed-jacket is brushed cuddle-cloth with a round collar and embroidered yoke: $4.98.

Peppermint stripes in blue (blue peppermint!) mark Edith's brushed nylon gown, lace-trimmed at the edge of the sleeves and around the yoke. Pink or yellow, too, at $10.

Brown wood-roses on ecru add up to nightgown, half slip, bra, petticoats, panty, dirdle with lace everywhere, everywhere! Edith's, of course.

French Shop's pajamas, gown and slip are bright flama print, inflammable as can be.

Two of everything, Edith's matches a short, fitted and quilted robe in orange, with a matching gown yoked and paneled at the sides with yellow. Gown is $11, robe is $25.

The same orange-yellow combination has been used for a long fitted robe and two gowns: a long orange shift with a wrap-around effect that ties down the low back $12 or a long all-yellow gown with smocked square yoke $18.

Sunset, for Sleep. A wash of sunset colors in Stacy's tricot print short robe with low, rounded neckline with a loose bow. It's a full robe with long, full sleeves $18 and goes with a perfectly gown all winter and yards of flutery fullness $12.

Stacy also sets green mist over yellow to make a full short gown banded with yellow satin around the neck and tied in back with a yellow satin tie $23. An amusing gown at Stacy's is white brushed nylon, cut with low waistline, short full skirt, long sleeves and wide sailor collar. It has a red and white striped dickie, of all things.

"Men buy it and the ladies bring it back..." that's what they say at Landau's about a very abbreviated black gown with braided straps and net overlay. The ladies exchange it for the pink one under lavender net or the red tricot over red. We'll keep the black, dud-dud, $5.

Landau's also has Mother Hubbard's in blue-red, blue-white Provincial prints. These gowns have long sleeves and just a bit of lace. $2.98. Quite different from the pink polka-dotted with its wee collar $3.98.

Clayton's brief, full skirted gown has a black lace bosom with blue over blue tricot looking the skirt. Van Raalte $25. Demure ladies will love the brushed nylon shortie with its raglan sleeved design and lace-trimmed scoop neck. $13.

What could be a more welcome and economical gift than Bailey's Artemis white antron slip, with lace, $5.98? Unless it's the tailored white one with shadow point all around, for $3.98.

Stone wants you to put all these filmy lovelies into coordinated lingerie sets: white satin with appliqued pink rose, perhaps. There's a set of drums to hold jewelry, too.

FOOT WARMERS

To Sho On. Slippers may be Clayton's lambkins in warm pink, blue or white, and $12.95. Nassau Shoe Tree keeps a set in the holiday door with Bernar's thong sandal held to your toe with a T of rhinestones. A gold lame mule (no, not a lame mule, dear — a lam-sy mule) has a little, low heel so you won't trip on the beakskin rug.

A golden velvet cavalier's boot is our favorite at Shoe Tree for at-home lounging. It sweeps high up to the knicker, with a slash in the throat and a huge satin bow. Heel is a fashionably dandy Louis. In a combination of royal and powder, too.

The Harlequin is just that: a dozen colors in half-inch diamonds of velvet on a jester of a shoe.

Shoe Tree keeps warm in the tie-moe: a grograin tie smooths out the sandy color. Ladybug and point. Some are warm and comfort. The King — are embraceable against the ash Moc has a throat rimmed fireside, all are done in fleece, very cozy in pink or honeyed shades of pink, yellow and turquoise, enclosing the whole low, beige, blue, softy green, foot with warmth.

JUST RIBBING: Collect sweaters! Walk into less vest in mustard wool Old Colony's wool cabaret at Bailey's comes in sate, chocolate, violet, beige, white, $10.98. Bailey thinks you need, with sweater or suit, a white blouse with off-white turnover collar, or the dacton crepe classic with its scalloped round collar and the scallops down the from clothing. A red applique of tiny bell and leaf gives it a holiday cachet. For a dress skirt, Bailey has an extra lace shell, $10.95.

Braemar cashmere is white this season at Clayton's, with silk-covered buttons, panels of wool lace-work and the kind of elegance only white cashmere can bring. $40. Coral-too.

Halley's cashmere is moonshine — yes, that's what we said. It's a color like celery, and this particular sweater has a detail of scalloping down front and cuffs. Cranberry saucer, too, if you prefer red.
 They commute to Iceland from The English Shop, bringing back handkerchiefs in natural, brown or black at $38.50. Lady Hester's print silk shirt is in another genre altogether, but the shop is the same. These joyful florals are made to be worn with long wool skirts, or black at-home pants. Guess who has them?

Sable. Some of the most delicious accessories this season
 come from Milady on Palmer Square, where the fabric is fur and fur. A box is sable, for or-mink is a garland for any Christmas tree. Silverfur is the most popular and extremely flattering, although black too has a mine-cryd charm.

Little stoles in mink or fur are almost like brief collars.
 Imagine what they'd do for a suit?

But that hot-rack! Bubblee of every fur from fox to chincilla. A formal-mink togette, a

Technician '66 — All over the Lot

Dark glasses are the only possible accessory for shop-ing the shops this Christmas: you never saw so much color, such wild color, such wildness of color...

LaVake: Garnet, aquamarine, amethyst, tourmaline, peridot and diamonds in a wild and chunky bracelet. $160.
 Elle: Clotilde nut by BouMelle in art nouveau orange, purple, emerald. A sleeveless top features snugly to the throat.

Princeton Clothing: Wild paleys and outdoor polo-kats (silver dollar!) in men's tapered boxer shorts.

Slacy: Flamingo-neck draperies over one shoulder of a winged, hind-necked chiffon dress.

Weatherwax: Navy blue, green-blue and wild blue in sheer, lined, lace-bound clottes. Sleeveless top is long and colorfully kinky. $75.

Clayton's: It's a fused Christmas tree ornament: hot pink, hot lime and molten gold in a metallic brocade evening bag. $30.

Nassau Shoe Tree: Flowera wildly bloom on a pair of black alk evening pumps.

Edith's Kelly double chiffon hostess gown with a million yards of fullness from a low neckline bound with green sequins on satin, voluminous sleeves.

Cummins: Earrings dangling in shocking pink plastic, with red, purple and orange to keep the pink company. $3.

Flemington Sample Shop: Cool red, hot pink, throbbing orange, Italian purple in a striped velvet evening cocktail dress. $100.

Princeton Gift: Brilliant enamel and gold in Italian flower and animal pins.

Bantherg's: Sequin-covered sleeveless top for an evening skirt with sequins in every light and color of the rainbow.

Shaggy red lynx for sports and fun, or a mink hot scarf with the fur attached to a grey or brown chiffon triangle. Wear it tight under the chin, or pull it at the back, for chic in any direction.

At Clayton's the mink togette comes from Denmark. Mink ties make another togette, this one with a top pointed like a mosque. The lynx at Clayton's is a fun-fur in mottled tan for only $30. You can have a synthetic fur from France made into a black togette with bow in neck. $35.

With any of these, carry Milady's Italian umbrella with the nice, great big Renaissance-Baroque-Class-ic stones set into the wrought silver handles.

Ribbons and Belts. For fun and flair, wear Stacy's black-ribboned jacket from Cerro of California. It has elbow-length bell sleeves and a single button. $55. French Shop frames your face in a black velvet hood lined with brocade or striped Italian silk.
 $8 and $10.

If she's young and engaged, buy her French Shop's little white lapin stole, pure as a first formal. It's just a shoulder wrap with a bow clasp. $29.

This is the Year of the Coat? Try on Weatherwax's Swedish shearing lamb seven-eighths length. Dark brown, simple, snappy and warm for $245.

Camels are coming at The English Shop where a simple mole coat classic is now made for ladies by Baron Anderson of Boston. $105.

From Landau, there is a zip-lined raincoat, even in petite sizes, even in black or navy, besides traditional beige. The shell is wash-wear, the lining is orlon pile $35.

Over the Arm. More handbags than you ever saw, on the Ladybug shelf. Most are Etienne Aigner, and we like the one with two outside leather bags on the same bag, if you see what we mean. A shoulder bag here is flat leather on one side to hug your hip. Looks rather like a wall plaque.

A fat little leather pouch is wide-eyed and cute, and a pale champagne, to go with a light winter suit, is unusual in the dark linen-leather world of Aigner.

At Nevius-Voorhees, it is Aigner, too. Here we like the one that's all leather, every single glancing inch with no nonsense about linen.

Snake Charmer. Nassau Shoe Tree carries a dark blue cobra (black) with brass feet, ballered and handled. $25. This is a square-shouldered sort of bag, but it also comes with a more rounded treatment.

From France, Shoe Tree has a black calf lined with leather.
 Square and chic, for $18. A minute bag with a tiny row of brass chips and a gold chain handle, is $28. So is splendid black calf with leather handle.

A bit of brass shows against the very deep brown of another Shoe Tree bag at $16, with envelope closing.

Soft goat leather bags are at Cummins. These have gathered tops on rods, rather like a cursion. Quilted leather bags have a continuation on Page 38

It's pretty frightening isn't it? We think hospital and we first think danger.

But think again — the calm, professional security. There is no substitute for this kind of help.

And your hospital has no substitute for your kind of help. Unfortunately, for hospital finances, it's all too often "two o'clock" in the morning.

Right now Princeton Hospital is asking for contributions for our Annual Capital Fund Appeal.

Our goal is $75,000. This money is to be used for essential equipment and to help amortize our loan. Please do what you can for us. Now. We'll do our best when you need us. Anytime.

Party goers will toss their heads as they wear the gold chains draped that end in a crystal of iridescence. A pear-shaped loop of rhinestones glitters, too, and so does the jeweled Christmas-tree pin.

Elle's Christmas earrings swing away, too. Clear colored glass balls swing from a pair of chains, and so do cubes of purple and pink, like little glass bricks.

Milady's pieces start at $40.
All of them have genuine stones in 14-karat mountings.
You'll be fascinated by the antique watch face, removed from an eviscerated watch to be against your bodice as pin or pendant.

A gold cat purrs fondly at his markings, and who wouldn't?
They're tiny eneralds.

three of them, combine with

George Lyran, (left) music director of Westminster Choir College, and Westerner resident Dr. Lee M. Brickett Jr.,

Handel's "Messiah" with the choir. The performance was gushed pin, and a laurel wreath of gold has six small diamonds inside.

Milady's ring is an opal with a strong blue-green cast and an enclosure of diamonds.
There's a fine aquamarine, too.
Four strands of pearls make a wide and handsome bracelet fastened by a two-inch band of turquoise and rose-cut diamonds. You can't miss that one.

In complete contrast is a thread-slim bracelet of gold with midnight-blue sapphires and diamonds along the way.

At Country Mouse, hand rings of ivory, jade or tortoise shell start at $2.50. Think of that ivory when you get your winter Florida tan. Winter earrings here are $1.25 to $8, and if your teenager hasn't bought out The Mouse already, it's a great place to shop. Here she a pair of ceramic painted shapers at the end of a one-half copper wire?

Ladybug sprouts bright little

And long, long, strands of plain old beads — devastating!

Richelleu is the name for pearls at Nevius-Voorhees.
This jewelry department has a nice big red holly Christmas pin, big enough for a coat lapel.

Trifari, at Mayne Mead, is best in brushed gold. Simple bracelets, pearl and gold combinations, and a tangle of crumpled gold in a wonderful multi-strand necklace — these are the baubles ready for your tree.

A 12-pointed golden star with a six-pointed star of em-eralds or sapphires will gleam against black or white. One Trifari circle pin is a curving crown of feathers, and there are feather clips, too.

At Bamberger's, there are unusual jet Maltese cross pin and insets dear old Florentine mosaic pins we haven't seen in years.

A four-inch — FOUR inch! — earring dangle at Bamberger's is inter-locking triangles of gold. And in contrast... a minute Christmas candlestick to glow from a pierced lobe.

Vanity, Vanity. For dressing tables, Stone is showing sets in 24-karat gold wash filigree.
Mirror, brush and comb are

Question of the Week

Question: Next Wednesday, December 7, marks the 25th anniversary of Pearl Harbor. Can you recall where you were and what your feelings were at the time?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

James Glavin, Somerville, salesman for Nini Plymouth, can remember it exactly. "I heard it on the radio. I was having dinner with my girl friend, who is now my wife, in a diner on Route 22 near Plainfield. It's Route 22 now. I remember thinking I had to sell my car because I would be going into the service. I was examined but they turned me down and I spent the day working in a factory for the Navy. I was in for three months and I didn't expect it. I don't think anyone else did either."

J. F. McNeerney, 49 Wiggins Street, was reading the Sunday paper in New York at the time when this thing came on and I thought it was something comparable to Orson Welles' "Invasion from Mars." Truthfully, at the time I did not have the full impact of what this would mean to me. My father was in the room at the time and he said "There you go" and I went shortly thereafter. I was in for three and one-half years and five 50 missions over Europe. I was an hero. I was lucky."

Abe Burger, 834 Kingston Road, postal clerk; I was at a banquet the night before, the annual banquet of No. 1 Princeton—the first Saturday in every month—and I was still there Sunday cleaning up when one of the members came back crying. When he told us why, we wouldn't believe him, and he said, "Turn on the radio!" I was in the service February 2. I enjoyed being in the Navy very much and I often wish I had made a career of it. As for my feelings about Pearl Harbor, I personally thought it was coming. But I didn't think it would be as soon as that."

Jerry Lackland, North Brunswick, Shipping Clerk for Lannack, Nassau Street: I was working in the Bethlehem Steel shipyard in Staten Island. I was at home—it was a Sunday—when I heard the news and I figured we were in and I had to go. I was a member of the 332nd Infantry Reserve and our outfit was in the Pacific. I was shocked, everything seemed to be going smoothly at the time. The Japanese Ambassadors were in Washington supposedly talking peace. It was a helluva shock."

Leroy York, Trenton, porter, Princeton University, I was living in North Carolina and I heard it on the radio. I was rather shocked, not knowing the situation. I was afraid they might keep coming right on over to this country. Alex Premer, 244 Nassau Street, barber for Rialto Barber Shop, was in New York and I remember it came as a terrific shock. No one expected it. I was in the service for 10 months on account of it and I had a wife and three kids at the time.

Nicholas Chisano, Morrisville, Pa., owner of Rialto Barber Shop, 128 Nassau Street: I was home in Trenton and I heard it on the radio. I felt pretty bad about it because I didn't want to see a war. It was a Sunday. I remember that, and someone was saying "I could only see the Japanese who would strike on a Sunday when everyone was in church."

er. Yes, I remember it quite well. I was in Pittsburgh. I remember it was a Sunday afternoon. We had just turned the radio on and it was practically the first thing we heard. The first feeling was one of shock, no question about that, but the second, almost immediate reaction beyond that first point of shock was a tremendous annoyance and hostility. This is it."

Hans Busch, 150 Stockton Street, landscaper: I was in Indonesia. My father was employed there and it was only about 12 and my reaction was I was scared stiff. The Japs were coming in our direction, too. They did catch up to us and we were imprisoned until 1945. My family and younger brother. We were all separated. We were lucky though—we all got out.

Henry Roy, Trenton, Princeton taxi driver: I lived in Trenton and I remember it was a Sunday afternoon. I was single at the time and the housekeeper came up and said "The Japs have bombed Pearl Harbor!" I remember how surprised I was, especially when the Japs had been talking peace in Washington at the same time.

B. H. Ellis, Garden City, L.I., construction superintendent: My reaction was one of astonishment. I never expected that kind of thing. I don't think anybody expected a sneak attack like that. I was in New York when the news came over the radio.

SPORTS In Princeton

HOW GOOD ARE TIGERS?
Early Line Available. The top-grade optimism in these parts, where basketball has been a winter way of life ever since Bill Bradley came to town, will tell you that Princeton is on the verge of an era in the sport that will at least match its success while the three-time All-American was here.

They point to the balance and the depth of the talent squad, and then suggest that if you need further persuasion, you take a look at the Class of 1970, "Best freshman team in Princeton history," they will tell you — before the season has even opened.

The more conservative estimate conceals the potential is high but adopts a wait-and-see attitude. But even those who are waiting for proof in the form of early-season action against several well-regarded opponents admit that there is sufficient all-around ability so that the Tigers will not be dependent on one man, as they were during the bright Bradley era.

The new season opens in Dillon Gym this Thursday at 8 against Lafayette, which generally fields a thoroughly capable basketball team. Two hours earlier, the Tiger freshmen will meet the first-year quintet from Easton, and — as in the winter of Bradley's freshman year — the Corn is likely to be well filled before this one is over.

Principal players to watch are 6-3 Jeff Petty, 6-7 John Hummer and 6-8 Joe Marty. Petty, sought by colleges in all parts of the nation, was all-state in Pennsylvania.

Hummer, younger brother of '50, the 6-6 varsity captain, picked Princeton over Duke, perennial leader in the tough Atlantic Coast Conference. He was all-state in Virginia, as was Marty in New Jersey. The latter was also pursued by numerous basketball-minded colleges, and the fact that all three chose Princeton had off-season chatter on the sport going at a high pitch last spring and summer.

Three out of Five Away. Of Princeton's first five games, three are on the road — against Army, Villanova and Davidson. While Army and Villanova are not expected to be quite as strong as they have been recently, there is a major home court advantage for these teams and the Tigers will impress if they manage to win at BE'LL START THIS YEAR. Junior John Haarlow, last of three brothers to play basketball for Princeton and at 6-6 the tallest, will start as a forward this season for the Tigers. In a reserve capacity last winter, he averaged in double-figure and hit on a 50-foot field goal that beat Harvard, 25-20, after the buzzer had sounded.

both West Point and on the Main Line. Lafayette and Colgate, there a week from Friday, should be easier to handle, with the trip to Charlotte to face Davidson another key battle. A mark as high as 4-1 in these first few contests will indicate that the Tigers may raise considerable hope in the post-Christmas Quaker City Tournament, which includes such teams as LaSalle, Louisville, Michigan State and Bowling Green.

Coach Bill van Breda Kolff's starting lineup has apparently jelled early, although the fact that he has consistently used the same five players during November scrimmages is no fair guarantee that occasional experimentation will not be undertaken between now and Christmas. It was a necessary policy during each of Bill Bradley's three years, the eventual combination in each season leading the Tigers to three straight try titles and a third-place finish in the national.

Expected to take the floor against Lafayette is a lineup consisting of Captain Ed Hummer and John Haarlow, both

C-6, as forwards; sophomore Chris Thordarke, 6-9 at center; and Gary Walters and Joe Heiser in the back court. Heiser at 6-2 is as tall as the forwards on many another college team. Walters, a 5-10 two-year letterman, will quarterback the offense and provide invaluable experience in bringing the ball downcourt if the opposition attempts any sort of press.

Final Figures Tell a Strange Tale

This is the distinctly intriguing story about three football teams, each of which won six Ivy League games and lost one to finish in a tie for the championship. Overall, one of them (Harvard) had an 8-1 season, the other two (Dartmouth and Princeton) were 7 and 5—about as closely bunched as won-lost percentages as three teams can be.

The fact that Dick Coleman's Tigers pulled themselves steadily upward to the top rung of the ladder, after their convincing defeat at Yaleover in the third game of the season, is even more amazing in view of final statistics compiled for the three teams. It is, in effect, a picture of sharp contrast, devastating offensive ability at both Dartmouth and Harvard, which simply steamrollered most of the opposition into inexperience, constantly rebuilding attack at Princeton, whose razor-thin margins over its opponents were translated into a highly successful season by a skilled defensive unit.

The table below shows how Dartmouth and Harvard were generally able to grind the other teams into submission, outgaining them by yardage totalling upwards of half a mile and outscoring them by an average of 15 points a game (Dartmouth) to nearly 30 for Harvard. Only in its passing attack was the Crimson slightly deficient to its nine opponents, a weakness more than atoned for by the extreme ability of John Yoniewicz's runners in the running with the ball. On the other hand, the Tigers—actually outgained by their opponents—managed to outscore them by an average of 3.5 points a game, and to win seven out of nine by doing so.

Bear in mind that the figures given for each team show the net difference between its full-season totals and the combined offense of its nine opponents.

	Dartmouth	Harvard	Princeton
Yards Gained Rushing	+1046	+1335	+195
Yards Gained Passing	+21	-80	-372
Total offense	+1067	+1255	-176
Touchdowns	+20	+25	+3
Total Points	+142	+171	+32

The offensive power reflected in the first two columns represents no mean achievement. Harvard's 258-yard average in rushing topped the entire nation, and right behind the Crimson was Dartmouth with its 253.3 average. The Indians were third ranked nationally in total offense, while in the Ivy League, their 441.3 yards per game was almost 100 ahead of runner-up Penn and not too far from double that of Princeton's 236.6, which was good for seventh place.

Small wonder there's a sports adage which says in a close game—or race—pick the team with the best defense.

Seton Hall Defeated. It was these five players who handed Seton Hall with ease during a scrimmage ten days ago, one in which no score was kept but which left no doubt as to the superior team. Van Breda Kolff's principal criticism of the Tigers was their inconsistency—periods of complete domination of the team were followed by stretches of distinctly sloppy play.

Early indications are that Princeton will not be markedly weak anywhere along the line. Despite their unusual height, the Tigers can run and all three big men have good stamina. They are all good ball handlers, a vital factor particularly in Thomford's case when so many players 6-6 and taller lack sure hands.

What's more, all five can shoot. With Harlow joining Walters and Heiser as good outside shots, and Thomford taller than 90% of the players he will face, a zone defense should not create the nightmares that it so frequently did for last year's low-scoring team.

Finally, in the event of injury or foul-trouble, the bench is strong. Senior Robby Brown will step in for Thomford when needed, Bill Koch and Al Adler, both seniors, are experienced reserve forwards and Larry Lucchino and Dave Lawry are both good ballhandlers for backcourt assignments. In fact, these five might well be able to handle the starting teams of some of the Tigers' opponents this season.

It will, actually, not be until late in the season that Princeton's ability to win another Ivy title can be accurately measured. Columbia and Cornell are the Tigers' strongest opponents and the schedule does not end the Orange and Black against either of them until late February—when four back-to-back games with them will be played.

Van Breda Kolff admits, however, as a Tiger, "I'm very optimistic, a forthright and refreshing attitude in an era when so many well-stocked coaches claim that 'any finish above the 500 mark in our part will be sheer gravy.'" Dillon Gym, meanwhile, will continue to have an over-sight of customers, and there is now small likelihood of a move to the new fieldhouse in time for any part of the 1967 season (see picture, page 41).

FOUR SHARE POE CUP

Quartet Honored at Dinner. An end and three backs on Princeton's football team were jointly awarded the Poe Cup Monday at the annual dinner held for the squad at the Princeton Inn.

The University's highest football award, the cup was given to Captain Walt Korumb, defensive end; Hayward Gibson, defensive halfback; John Bowers, wingback; and Doug James, who played primarily as cornerback but also saw action on several vital occasions as a tailback. Korumb, Gibson and James were three-year lettermen, the Tiger captain starting all 27

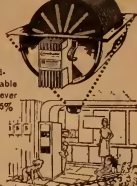

FROM PCD TO ALL-IVY. Dave Davis, who graduated from Princeton Country Day school in 1956 after earning his early football there, has been named to the All-Ivy team selected by the Associated Press. He was a standout defensive tackle at end, winner of his career at end.

To Bob Ehret, a Lawrenceville resident, went the Caldwell Trophy, emblematic of demonstrated improvement and continued effort. Used almost entirely on the junior varsity squad for the past two years, Ehret turned in a high-level performance in a high-level game.

commendable performance throughout the 1966 season. Dick Coleman called him the "best center in the league," remarking on his fine blocking and the fact that "we didn't have a single bad pass all season." Elbert's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William A. Elbert of the Princeton-Lawrenceville Road.

Jim Kokoskie, a regular linebacker this fall, won the Harry R. McPhee award as the player "whose fortitude and durability have made him a prime source of strength to the team." Injured a good part of his first three years at Princeton, Kokoskie overcame consistent adversity to rank as a key member of the Tigers' line defensive unit.

Ellis Moore won the Louie Award, given to the freshman football player who has "most clearly demonstrated qualities of leadership and the spirit of amateur athletics." A 195-16 fullback on the unbroken Class of 1970 team, he was cited by Coach Pop McCarthy as "a line runner, good blocker and excellent punter, especially under pressure." As such, he is the heir apparent to senior Bill Berkeley, who has handled the kicking assignment for the past three years.

ment. Participation in their first Eastern College Athletic Conference Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden will be a feature of the 1966-67 season for Princeton's hockey team. The Tigers will begin their second year under former NHL wing John Wilson in Baker Hook this Saturday at 2 with the St. Nicholas Hockey Club providing the opposition.

Boston University, always an eastern power, will be Princeton's opponent in the first round of the tournament at the Garden. The game is set for Saturday, December 17, with others to follow on the 19th and 20th, depending on how the Tigers fare.

A trip to West Point and home games against Boston College and Providence round out the pre-Christmas activity. On New Year's Eve, Princeton will play Yale at West Orange. Pre action begins January 4 against Brown at Providence, with Harvard on the schedule three days later at Cambridge—a tough assignment for the Tigers in the rebuilding process that is going on under Wilson in his first season here. He steered them to a third-place finish.

Hopes for an improved record were somewhat dimmed by an ECAC ruling that sophomore Bobby Groh is ineligible because he played Junior A hockey in Canada as property of the Chicago Black Hawks. Groh is a standout goalie, a position where the Tigers are short of experience.

Regan Kerney, a Princeton resident who backed up Greene Flinders in the goal last season, is competing with sophomore Summer Schachter for the assignment. Both are likely to see action in the games leading up to the tournament in the Garden.

The starting defensive pair will be junior Tom Davis and Bill Ramsey, last year's freshman captain, with senior John Baker and sophomore Randy Edwards in reserve. Ben Kannen will also see action behind the blue line, but Randy Spence, with whom he was scheduled to pair, will be out of action through December with a knee injury.

Captain Gordy Gladman will center the first line, on which Terry Peterman and Ben Fuller are the wings. Peterman was the top scoring member of last year's team (6-12) with 20 points, 20 of which were assists.

An all-sophomore line centered by Dick Johnson, with Jonathan Taylor and Denny Grande on the wings, will take the ice at the first change-over. The durable John Ritchie will center another line, on which junior Mike Higgins and sophomore Terry Tierney will play. Indication of better-than-usual depth, Wilson also can field a fourth line: sophomore Peter Stuckey at center, Charlie MacMillan and Mason Young on the wings.

Four Princeton alumni are currently skating for the St. Nick's, who would have had an all-Cook line had not Peter fractured his wrist while playing Army at West Point a fortnight ago. Johnny and Steve Cook are wearing Green and White, as are Buss Hall last year's captain, and Harry Bollen-Miller.

The Nicks have 21 victories over both Army and Yale to their credit, and are markedly stronger than they were a year ago. Bob Goudreau, Brown's All-American defenseman, is playing for them, and Dave Ferguson, also of Brown, is in the goal.

Princeton's complete 1966-67 schedule:

- Dec. 3, St. Nick's (H); C. C. Army at West Point; 10, Boston College; 13, Providence College; 17-20, ECAC* Holiday Festival at New York; 31, Yale at West Orange, N.J.
- Jan. 4, Brown* at Providence; 7, Harvard* at Cambridge; 14, Dartmouth* at New Brunswick; 28, Northeastern at Boston.
- Feb. 3, Colgate at Hamilton; 4, Dartmouth* at Hanover; 8, Cornell* (H); 11, Yale* (H); 18, Clarkston; 18, Yale* (H) at New Haven; 21, R.P.I.; 23, Brown* (H); 28, Harvard* (H).

OPENER WEDNESDAY
For PHS Hockey Team. A pair of PHS firsts will mark the opening hockey contest between Princeton High School and Lawrenceville School, to be held Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 at Lavinia Rink.

First, after three years as a club, the game will mark the team's first as an officially recognized varsity at the high school level. It will mark the debut of its new coach, Peter Cook, a third-year letterman at Princeton University from 1937-59.

For this first year, the Little Tigers will play 17 games, which, Cook remarked, "is not for a high school team." Ten of the last 11 will be played at the new Princeton Day School rink now in the final stage of construction. Four of its first six will be held at Baker Rink. In addition to its opener with Lawrenceville, PHS will be on the road only twice — at Montclair High School on January 3 and January 26 at South Orange.

Until sometime in January when the Blue and White can use the new PHS rink for ice time, the team will have to limit its practice sessions to three mornings a week (starting at 6 a.m.) at Baker Rink. Cook was not able to conduct his first workout until Monday, which left him only eight days to get ready for Lawrenceville.

On hand to greet Cook was Paul Rice, this year's captain, and leading scorer last winter. Joining Rice on defense are veterans Pete Starbuck and Charlie Sheldon.

At forward will be Bobby Linder, Buzz Silverstein, John Rice, Henry Sommers, Mark Adams and John Lehmann. A major concern will be finding someone to replace Dave Bagin in the goal. "So far, we don't have much in the way of a goalie," said Cook.

Strong First Team. How will the Little Tigers fare this year as compared to last, when they broke about even? "From the reports I've heard," replied Cook, "we should be able to come up with a pretty strong first team on the ice." The main problems are the aforementioned goalie and a lack of depth.

"Below the first team, I just don't know who will have," he said. "Everything will be wide open." He added he expects to get 30 to 35 boys to come out and if necessary, permit to form a freshman or jayvee team.

Cook will be assisted by George Thompson. "I'll be George's commented Cook, "who put the hockey program at Princeton on its feet and got the whole thing started."

The 1966-67 schedule: Dec. 2, Lawrenceville, away; 10, Wassaichton; 22, Englewood; 28, Cranford; Jan. 3, Montclair High School, away; 11, South Orange; 18, Princeton High School; 26, PHS; 23, Montclair; 28, South Orange; away; Feb. 1, Livingston; 4, Wassaichton; 10, Cranford; 17, Demarest; 20, Summit; 24, PHS.

Cox, Bob Upchurch, Alan Moving and Jeff Brangan, Alan Moving and Jeff Bullock, Hane, Yoder, Upchurch and Francois have had extensive jayvee experience.

Coach Declines Comment. The team did not hold practices over the holiday weekend and, as a result, Borok has had little chance to evaluate what he has coming up. He declined at this stage to make any comments on the team.

In the past three seasons, the Little Tigers have posted records of 13-10, 12-12 and 9-10 for an overall 32 effort. However, in spite of its 50-10 performance, Borok has guided his teams to important wins early in the campaign to earn a spot in the NJSIAA post-season tournament in each of the previous two seasons.

Whether or not the Blue and White can do it a third year will hang largely on the talent of those coming up to give Borok a chance to lead and how soon Borok can pick the five who will work to gather as a team, to contrast with other years, the team will play seven opponents in December (five at home), which means that Tony should know the score of a win in his stocking before Christmas.

In one major schedule change, the Asbury Park round robin tournament, involving PHS, Asbury, Long Branch and Red Bank, in which the team has participated during the last two years, has been replaced by a Suburban Trenton tournament. This will be held December 26-28 at Ewing.

Dec. 27, 47 scores: Dec. 2, Asbury Park; 6, Franklin; 9, Ewing; 13, Franklin, away; 15, Trenton; 20, Lawrence; 23, Cathedral, away; 26-28, Suburban Tournament, at Ewing. BUTTERFOS IS NAMED
To All-County Team, Tom Butterfos, 6-5, 225-pound Princeton High School tackle, has been named to the All-Mercer County first team by the Trenton Times-Advertiser. He is the only junior to be honored.

The co-captain elect of the 1967 Little Tigers was further honored as one of three players on the offensive and defensive units of the first team. The others are quarterback Gary Hoffman and guard Sam Steniert of Steniert High School's first undefeated eleven.

Three other Little Tigers join Butterfos on the first team. This season's co-captain, Tom Wood, 6-5, 215 pounds, was named an end, and Ken Grob, 5-11, 175 pounds, was named fullback of the first team offense. Jeff Bullock, 5-8, 164 pounds, was one of the four backs chosen on the first team defense. Co-captain Rich Voia was named a back on the second team defense.

Wood was named Butterfos' all-round ability that he was able to stand out in the offense and defensive line as the Little Tigers, which were well populated with such top performers as John McKeever, Rich Sisco, Mike Pomiano and Rich Ryan in continuing on Butterfos' double selection, the Advertiser reported.

1967 PHS FOOTBALL CO-CAPTAINS: Wingback Tom Taylor, 18, left son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor, 175 John Street, and Tom Butterfos, 16 son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Butterfos, 245 Mount Loran Road, have been named co-captains of the 1967 Little Tiger squad. that several of the coaches named Butterfos as the player who had stopped their team's advances.

At 178, Grob does not possess the best one usually assumes with a full back, but he compensated by hitting the line at top speed. He had a driving, second effort. Grob tackle was never an easy one. Usually, it took two or more to bring him to earth.

The workhorse of the Little Tiger single wing power plays, Grob carried the ball 130 times for a fine 4.2 yard average. He also led the team in touchdowns with 11, four more than his nearest competitor. Against Madison in the team's finale, he scored three of Princeton's four TDs.

Wood commanded attention not only because of his size but for the number of times he could do well. He was a receiver, three TDs (catches) and a rugged blocker. Because of his size and power, he was used as a tailback, where he never failed to give a creditable performance on offense and passing. He was the third son of coach Tom Wood, a former well for PHS, his predecessors being Alan and Craig.

Mike Wood, Bullock did a little but if everything he ran the ball well, scoring eight touchdowns to rank him in that department and he could pass—three scoring strikes against Trenton and it was on defense that Jeff was perhaps most exciting to watch.

His specialty was pass interception. He led the team in thefts as a junior and on three occasions this fall he intercepted Trenton's passes. He had, according to Coach Wood, a natural football sense of being the right place at the right time.

To an almost equal degree, Rich Voia had this same feeling for defense. Operating as a linebacker, he had no need to move up for the tackle and when to fall back to cover against a pass. He had no peer as an open field tackler.

Similar Honors. In a similar all-star county team picked by the sports staff of Trentonian, Wood was named to the first team offense and Butterfos and Bullock to the first team defense. Grob and Voia received honorable mention.

Other Little Tigers receiving honorable mention were guard Rich Sisco, tailback Tom Yoder and defensive specialists Tom Taylor, who with Butterfos, has been named co-captain elect of the 67 squad.

As expected, Steniert, which completed its first perfect season, dominated the balloting. It had nine first team votes in the Advertiser selections and eight among those made by the Trentonian. Its former, PHS and Notre Dame were tied for second with five votes each.

PHS Football Dinner

The annual dinner for varsity members of the Princeton High School football team will be held Tuesday evening at 6:30 at the Princeton Inn. It is open to the players, fathers and coaches of the team.

As in the past years, the fathers of the co-captains will be in charge of arrangements, which means that PHS coach Dick Wood will serve in that capacity, as will his son, Tom, who was one of the co-captains. Jack Voia, 214 Moore Street, father of co-captain Rich Voia, will assist Wood.

Princeton Inn and Leo's Gulf, were tied for first place in the B League with 42 points each. Boilestein Construction (40) and Ivy Inn (38) follow.

John Anderson rolled games of 215-208-223 for a fine 942 series to nip Bill Cavanaugh by one pin ball. Bill scored 246 first game, dipped to 220-17 for 641 series. Bill Keifer followed a 216-202-205—62 effort.

High single games were recorded by Joe McKeever, 245 Nick Ross, 223; and Ed Dunstan, 224. Ed Dwyer had 205-112 and Bill Penicill, 204-200.

Grover Lumber saw its three-man lead reduced to one, 43-44, over second-place Classic division. Froccaccia Construction is second with 21 points.

Flavio Buono and Bob Cifelli tied for individual honors, each rolling a 235. Ed Hughes was named by 214 followed by Vince Tufano, 211, and Ed Dunstan Jr., 210. Nor Maddaleno had 201-200.

Pare Hardware slipped from second to third place, five wins behind league-leading Colonial Restaurant in the Three-Man Classic division. Froccaccia Construction is second with 21 points.

Four bowlers scattered their pins for series in the 600s. Joe Buldino finished with 600-500-500-500 for a total of 2400. Bill Penicill had a pair of 214s and 183 for 621 and Guido Zinetti and Flavio Buono had 610 and 600 respectively. Max Zinetti's middle game was a 245.

Last week, Helen finished in exemplary rolling, a margin of 144-200-210 for a 554 series. Eleanor Penicill had a 195. ## Read a Book, Then Wrap It Up

How well does Princeton's November best-seller list reflect the book you may find in your stocking on Christmas Day? In short, buy 'em first, then give 'em for Christmas.

FICTION

"In God We Trust, All Others Pay Cash," Jean Shepherd, University Store and Princeton Book Mart. If you grew up in the '30s, this comic novel will read like a diary.
"Secret of Santa Vittoria," Robert Crichton. This pleasant novel about World War II is on the best-seller list for the third month in a row. (Male's Book Shop).
"A Room of One's Own," "Mrs. Dalloway," — almost anything by Virginia Woolf and, curiously, almost anything by Thomas Wolfe. (Witherspoon Art and Book).

NON-FICTION

"Paper Lion," George Plimpton. You never read a football book like this one. (University Store).
"Rush to Judgement," Mark Lane. The Warren Commission questioned. (Male's Book Shop).
"The New York Times Misc Cookbook," Craig Claiborne. For people who don't want to lose any clipped recipes. (Princeton Book Mart).
Autobiographies of Calvin Coolidge and Theodore Roosevelt. (Witherspoon Art and Book Shop).

RECOMMENDED . . .

"Winston Churchill," Randolph Churchill writes about his father. (University Store).
"Everything But Money," Sam Levenson's family reminiscences. (Male's Book Shop).
"Paper Lion," George Plimpton again. (Princeton Book Mart).

MAILBOX

Salute to Dr. Clemens.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

My hearty commendation goes to you for making Rudolf Clemens the Man of the Week. (TOWN TOPICS, November 17.)

I have been in Princeton as a resident only for two years, but I have had ample opportunity to observe how much Dr. Clemens has meant to worth-while organizations and projects of our community.

With best wishes for the continued flourishing of Town Topics.

LEWIS H. HITZROT, M.D.
161 Patton Avenue

Tigers Not Alone.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Princeton is no longer "the only major college playing single wing football." TOWN TOPICS, November 24.

East Carolina College in its first year playing major college football also uses it. East Carolina is now in the Southern Conference and also won a share of the title as last Princeton in the Ivy League.

In the previous three years at a small college, E. C. has won three bowls with the single wing coach Clarence Stasivich (1964 Small College Coach of the year) has never had a losing season in 22 years.

RICHARD OLSEN
Belle Mead

Editor's Note: TOWN TOPICS thanks to East Carolina College senior Richard Olsen. Like Dick Colman, Coach Stasivich grossly enjoys the fact that use of the single wing gives the opposition only five days in which to prepare a defense against the "outmoded" attack.

Education Bill Supported.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

There will be coming up for vote in the Senate and Assembly while the next session or to $434, a bill to create a new Department of Higher Education, with its own Board to establish general policy and for the planning and oversight of higher education in New Jersey.

The League of Women Voters of the Princeton Commu-

ity has studied the problems of higher education in New Jersey intensively over the last year and strongly supports this bill. Our support rests on the following considerations:

1. New Jersey's position in higher education is unique. It ranks fourth in the nation in per capita income, yet 47th in per capita expenditures for higher education. Indeed, 55% of our college-bound youth must go outside the State for their education because there are not enough places for them within the State. If we are to accommodate the numbers we are presently turning away, plus the increased numbers being graduated every year from our high schools, we must expand our facilities by 1975 to take care of 130,000 full-time students vs. the present 30,000.

2. The present State Board of Education is confronted with the task of directing with skill and imagination a public school system involving 1.3 million pupils in 590 school districts in 21 counties with total annual budgets of 6000 million. The burdens imposed by this task will not lessen in the decade ahead; they are more than enough for any single Board and Commissioner of Education to carry.

3. The development and coordination of a higher education enterprise of this magnitude required in New Jersey demands focused, high-level professional direction operating under a Board whose members have experience, wisdom, and talent and are willing to give considerable time and attention to the task.

4. The experience of other states appears overwhelming to confirm the advantages of a separate Board of Higher Education. In 1950 there were 29 states which had no statewide organization of higher education, while today only about a dozen states (including New Jersey) are without such a board—and most of these are small states.

We, therefore, urge all public-minded citizens to write to their State Senator and Assemblymen asking their support of S-834.

As the holiday season approaches we want to express these thoughts which are on the minds and hearts of us all.

The Vietnam war causes more and more of our young people to be engaged in the fighting, results in mounting casualties and has produced over one million homeless refugees. We believe that these facts call for a special frame of mind at all times but particularly in the coming weeks: An appropriate restraint in our spending and in our festivities, a more prayerful concern for seeking ways toward peace and a personal sacrificial gift to the refugee relief program of our individual religious group.

HOPING FOR A YES

Youth Service Seeks Funds
Youth Employment Service of Princeton has launched a drive to solicit funds to maintain its community activities. YES has placed hundreds of youngsters in part-time jobs and has aided others to continue their education.

YES has provided many Princeton youngsters with their first opportunity to gain job experience and responsibility. In addition, the service has made scholarship grants to 25 students to enable them to continue post-high school study.

This year's grant recipients are Priscilla Irving at Treacy Warner, Dana Johnson at Goldney-Bescom, Kathleen Rice at Rider College and Thomas Darby, James Greene and Paul A. Wooten at Elecronix Training Center.

Youth Employment Service is staffed entirely by unpaid volunteers working under a budget that covers only office expenses. Those wishing to contribute to YES should mail checks to 129 John Street.

BANK DECLARES DIVIDEND

At Year-End, Princeton Bank and Trust Company has declared a year-end dividend of 40 cents per share. The dividend will be payable on December 15 to stockholders of record on November 25.

The new dividend will bring the total payments on the stock to $3 per share. Last year, total payments were $1.80 per share.

DIVIDEND PROPOSED

For Trenton Bank, Sydney G. Stevens of Princeton, chairman of the board of the First Trenton National Bank, has announced that the board has recommended that the bank declare a five percent stock dividend.

The recommendation will be put forth at the annual meeting of shareholders in January and will then be subject to approval by the Comptroller of the Currency. Mr. Stevens explained that the proposed stock dividend, as well as the 16-cent per share increase in the cash dividend announced last summer, reflect the bank's large earnings for 1966.

The new dividend would be the second of its kind for First Trenton shareholders in the past three years. In January of 1963, a five percent dividend was declared along with a two-for-one stock split.

"It has been received with such real enthusiasm that the originators have begun to see in it a new approach to religious education for adults as well as children."

Selected paintings have been exhibited at Queens University, Belfast, as part of the World's Council of Churches' Children's Work. They have been shown in city and rural libraries and in college and municipal museums.
